CONGRESS WILL STEP ON GAS AS MARCH 4 NEARS

Would Avert Calling of Special Session.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—With only ten days of its existence remaining, the Sixty-ninth congress will begin grinding legislation tomorrow at top speed, thereby making unnecessary an extraordinary session of the Sixty-ninth congress this spring.

Both houses will hold night as well as day sessions in the effort to clear the calendar of bills of varying degrees of importance, and as March 4 draws nigh the chambers will remain in nearly continuous session until the sine die adjournment.

REP. LONGWORTH
(Harris & Ewing.)

Begin to Organize.

While the closing chapters in the life of the present congress are being written, preliminary plans are being made in connection with the organization of the Sixty-ninth congress. Republican house members will caucus Friday night to select their nominees for speaker, name a floor leader, and set the machinery in motion for the filling of committee vacancies.

Democratic house members will meet Saturday night. The Sixty-ninth congress does not begin its first session until next December, barring the possibility of a special session in the fall, but the house leaders prefer to have their speakership contest out of the way.

Longworth vs. Madden.

Representatives Longworth (Rep., Ohio) and Madden (Rep., Ill.) have entered in a lively fight for the speakership. Supporters of both claim victory.

If Mr. Longworth wins, the floor leader may be Representative Tilson (Rep., Conn.), who has figured prominently as a member of the ways and means committee. Mr. Madden will continue to head the appropriations committee. There will be comparatively few changes in chairmanships.

On the Democratic side there is no contest in sight. Representative Garrett (Dem., Tenn.), the present floor leader, again will be nominated for the speakership.

Cold Days for Rebels.

The Republican caucus promises to develop more than usual interest because of the La Follette insurgents. The ten Republicans from Wisconsin, seven from North Dakota and one from Minnesota, constituting the twelve who supported La Follette for the presidency, were not sent invitations to the Republican caucus. They will not have a voice in selecting the party candidate for the speakership.

Whether or not they will be denied representation as Republicans on standing committees depends on the caucus. There seems a strong probability that they will be removed from the present committee assignments and given only scant recognition as members of a minority party.

Deadlocks to End.

The effect of such action will be to enable the Republican organization to obtain a firm grip on the committee and prevent a situation such as has prevailed during the past session, wherein radical Republicans and Democrats by combining have been able to block things as they saw fit.

The present short session will close with just about the sort of record expected of it. The leaders have been able to sidetrack nearly all controversial legislation and have been able to speed up consideration of appropriation bills in record breaking fashion. The Republican organization has done fairly well in putting its program through, although the radical Republicans have managed to hold the balance of power.

Radicals Are Tamed.

The radicals, however, have been comparatively tame since their crushing defeat in the November election. Credit for the unprecedented appropriation record is given to the budget system. It has not been necessary for congress to iron out as many appropriation controversies as formerly. The budget bureau has weeded out unnecessary items and trimmed estimates to the bone.

Centralization of all appropriations in the hands of a single committee in the house, instead of nearly a dozen, as formerly, also has tended both toward rigid economy and toward a speeding up of action.

A MIGHTY BIG SIGN FOR SUCH WEAK PROPS

King George Must Cruise to Avoid Flu

LONDON, Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—King George of England must, on recovery from his attack of influenza, take himself out of the rigorous English climate as a precaution against the possibility of a second attack of influenza, which is very prevalent in England now. So the king's physicians, Lord Dawson, Sir Milson Rees and Sir Frederick Stanley Hewitt, have ruled.

The three physicians paid their customary morning and evening visits to the palace today and after a rather long consultation issued a bulletin at 5 o'clock this evening, revealing for the first time how very severe the bronchial attack had been, and why recovery was so slow.

Balance of Winter on Yacht.

The physicians have advised the king to spend the remainder of the winter in his yacht for a few weeks. The official bulletin reads:

"The king passed a fair day. There is still a rise of temperature in the evening but the slow progress continues."

"At its onset, the influenza, which attacked his majesty, was somewhat severe, the bronchitis extending to the base of the lungs—a form of malady which is apt to be tedious and resistant."

"In order to secure complete restoration of health and fitness, we advise, when the stage of convalescence has been reached, that his majesty shall proceed to the south of Europe and cruise in his yacht for a few weeks."

Presumably, in view of this decision, the royal duties will devolve on Prince Henry, as the Duke of York is in Africa and the Duke of Gloucester is in the plans of the Prince of Wales to visit South Africa.

LITTLE MOTHER, AGED 6, DIES TO SAVE SISTER, 3

Josephine Quinlan, 6 years old, gave her life yesterday to save that of her sister Genevieve, 3, for whom she had promised to play "little mother" when their real mother died last September.

When their father, a street car motorman, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Eva Harris, went to church, they told Josephine to care for Genevieve and the other baby, Beatrice, 5 years old. Genevieve promptly started lighting matches and soon her dress was on fire.

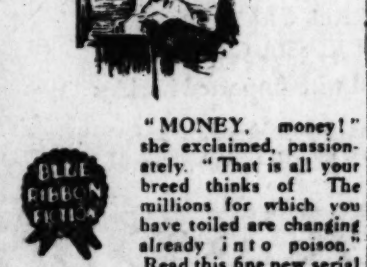

Josephine grabbed the shrieking child and held her close until the flames died. But her own clothing caught fire. She tried to climb into a sink and turn on the water. Mrs. Mary Davenport, 70 years old and a cripple, came from a nearby flat, but was not strong enough to help.

By the time outsiders arrived Josephine was dying. Death came in the Jefferson Park hospital just as her father reached her side.

Alterie Doffs Guns; Joins Song Service

Louie Alterie, prominent sidewalk expert, attended Sunday school yesterday afternoon. The services were held outside his basement cell in the detective bureau, where he landed when he was arrested yesterday at the Mid-night Frolics by Capt. John Stege and six policemen.

Louie joined in the singing, read aloud from the Bible—given him later by the Moody Bible institute—and then made a secret donation to the rescue workers that is said to be the largest ever handed out in a jail service.

Louie's New Code.

After the singing, Alterie made these pronouncements:

1. He's going to keep out of cabarets.
2. He's not going to carry a gun.
3. No more moonshine for Louie.
4. All his thoughts to his union presidency.

His Latest Exploit.

Alterie's latest arrest came early yesterday in the Mid-night Frolics, on 224 street near Wabash avenue, where he sat with a beautiful blonde, Myrtle Sherman, manicurist in a loop hotel, and two men, Joseph Gould and Alfie Marlow.

Police said they were drinking and that Alterie became very noisy. Alterie denies this. The same authorities say three guns were found on him and his party. Alterie says they were found under the table.

Capt. John Stege of the detective bureau, with Lieut. Edward Birmingham and five detectives trooped in. They approached Alterie, and according to his version when Capt. Stege pushed him he pushed right back again. At any rate he was arrested.

Washington's birthday held him in a cell all day. There were no judges available from whom he could get a writ of habeas corpus to free him.

OPENING GRAVE OF BROTHER OF OLSON, IS PLAN

Dual Quiz Into Death Mysteries.

Exhumation of the body of the late Dr. Oscar Olson is to be ordered, it was learned yesterday, because of testimony at the McClintock inquest.

After the coroner's jury had on last Friday heard about the alleged interest of William D. Shepherd in typhoid fever germs and of his inheriting $1,000,000 when William McClintock died, supposedly of typhoid fever, witnesses related the circumstances of Dr. Olson's death. The action, long contemplated, of now examining the body of Dr. Olson, then became a certainty, it was declared.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, sponsor for the McClintock inquest, and brother of the late Dr. Olson, has sifted the circumstances attending both deaths and is proceeding on the theory that there is a connection between the deaths—the McClintock fortune.

Chain of Factors.

Judge Olson asserts the outstanding facts attending both deaths are these: As to Dr. Olson's death:

1. Dr. Olson had been a friend of the McClintocks before the birth of William, later known as the millionaire orphan. He was the friend of the boy until his own death which occurred three years ago when McClintock was 18 years old. He thought Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were seeking to lessen his influence on the boy and he intended to guide the youth in making a will.
2. Dr. Olson had an attack of pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd and T. A. Newman visited him bringing fruit. Shepherd was alone with Dr. Olson at the bedside. Dr. Olson ate a pear. He died a few hours later and a physician signed a certificate of death due to heart disease.

Death of McClintock.

As to McClintock's death Judge Olson points out:

1. Mrs. Shepherd was named as one of the guardians of the 5 year old heir to a million dollars when Mrs. McClintock died sixteen years ago. Mrs. Shepherd and her husband were allowed $1,000 per month by court order for the maintenance of the youth.
2. Before he reached his majority McClintock became engaged to marry Miss Isabelle Pope.
3. A few days after his twenty-first birthday the youthful millionaire signed a will, drawn up by Shepherd, bequeathing $5,000 yearly to Miss Pope and the balance of more than $1,000,000 to Shepherd, nothing to Mrs. Shepherd.
4. Miss Pope and Miss Estelle Gehling, who possesses several letters addressed to "Precious Sunshine" and which she said Shepherd penned to her during the last three years, both say Shepherd sought a large gift from the boy at that time, a piece of property valued at much more than $100,000, and that the boy millionaire refused.
5. Last November, as the marriage date was nearing, Billy became ill. A few days later, Miss Pope testified, Shepherd said to her: "Billy may be he has typhoid fever."
6. About the same date, according to the testimony of an employee of the Northern Trust company, the trustee of the McClintock estate, Shepherd called there and said McClintock was ill. He is quoted for the same remark: "Billy thinks he has typhoid fever."
7. Young McClintock did not tell his attending physician, Dr. Rufus B. Stolz, that he thought he had typhoid fever, but two weeks later when Dr. James Herrick was called in consultation that was the diagnosis.
8. Miss Pope said she was never permitted to see her fiancé alone.

Testimony About Germs.

The testimony at the inquest given by E. T. Breidigan, a bacteriologist, that Shepherd called at the laboratory where he was employed, ten or twelve times, Shepherd was quite interested in the germ cultures at the laboratory, often asking about typhoid germs.

10. The testimony of Dr. George Foeberg that Shepherd twice consulted him about a possible post-mortem examination after a death due to typhoid fever and death due to prussic acid taken in olive oil or castor oil.

11. The arrest of John Hutchinson, a private detective employed by the Jones, Inc., agency, at the office of Dr. Foeberg and his admission he was acting under instructions to get Dr. Foeberg to accompany him to some place the detective refused to name.

Rum Cave Is Pyre for Pair of Poachers

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—The charred and mutilated bodies of Burt G. Lovejoy, patrolman, and George Peters, former police chauffeur, who police believe were slain last Tuesday by moonshiners, whose liquor cache the two men had been looking, were found here today buried in a cave in the east bottom near the Missouri river.

Lovejoy and Peters had been stealing moonshine from the cave and selling it here, the police believe. Early tonight no clues had been developed as to the identity of the slayers.

The men, who disappeared last Tuesday, had been killed by blows on the head and their throats had been cut.

Both Bodies Are Burned.

The moonshiners' cave was their funeral pyre. The slayers loaded the bodies on a pile of wood, threw gasoline into the pit, and touched a match. Then, when the bodies were burned almost beyond recognition, the cave was filled in with earth.

Three officers, who began a search for Lovejoy and Peters yesterday, uncovered the bodies after several hours of digging today.

The slaying apparently had occurred at the edge of the cave, some 200 feet from a large shack where police yesterday discovered a huge moonshine plant. No one was found at the place. After confiscating several stills, the police burned the shack.

Teamster Tells of Theft.

Daniel C. Coffman, a teamster, revealed to the police that Lovejoy and Peters had taken liquor from the cave. He said the men posed as federal officers and hired him last Sunday to go to the cave and haul the liquor away. In all 335 gallons were obtained that day, he said.

Ed Godet, a man named Arlie Griffin were with Lovejoy and Peters, according to Coffman. The liquor was taken to Coffman's home and stored in a shed and later removed.

Godet, a friend of Peters, told the police he received a five gallon jug of whiskey for his services. It was he who suggested that the police dig at the spot where the bodies were found.

Women Joined in Hunt.

The disappearance of Lovejoy and Peters was reported to the police after Coffman, Godet, Miss Martha Clauser, friend of Peters, and Mrs. Ruth Phillips, who posed as Lovejoy's wife, had been received a five gallon jug of whiskey for his services. It was he who suggested that the police dig at the spot where the bodies were found.

WOMAN PLUNGES FROM WINDOW OF HOME; MAY DIE

Mrs. Catherine Tynon, 4532 Prairie avenue, probably will die from injuries received late last night when she jumped or fell from the third story window of her home to the pavement below.

At the Chicago hospital early this morning it was reported that her condition is critical. She suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Police were investigating a report that Mrs. Tynon sought death because of a family quarrel with her husband, a former policeman. He declared, however, that his wife tripped over a rug and fell from the window.

WANTS A DAWES AUDIT TO TRIM DOWN THE BILL

Hopes U. S. Will Ask for Inquiry.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)
Copyright, 1925, By The Chicago Tribune.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—France is prepared to accept a Dawes committee of experts to investigate and ascertain France's capacity to pay its war debts. The TRIBUNE was authoritatively informed tonight.

France will welcome such action if proposed by America, because, it is pointed out, such procedure implies a statement that the United States realizes that France cannot pay entirely its war debt and a revision reducing the sums due would be the logical result of a probe of its capacity to pay.

Early in January, just before the finance conference, M. Clementel announced that France was ready for experts to examine its ability to reimburse its creditors, and Premier Herriot afterward reiterated the statement. The hostile nationalist press severely criticized the government for "placing victorious France on the same plane with defeated Germany" by even listening to proposals for a Dawes plan for France.

Called Only Solution.

Realizing that some such scheme is the only possible solution of the debt impasse, however, the Herriot cabinet eagerly acclaims the proposal.

French officials point out that the French members of any such committee of experts would protect the country's vital interests, and would not permit the investigators to interfere in the nation's internal affairs.

It is believed, however, that such recommendations as leasing the telegraph and telephone systems, state railways, and tobacco and match industries to private corporations will guarantee huge annual profits instead of the losses sustained yearly through subvention and would go a long way toward restoring the national budget.

Might Effect Big Economies.

Thinking, practical Frenchmen also believe an international body of well known men might make recommendations which the people would adopt and the opposition press would not dare to criticize, whereas any French cabinet proposing the same measures would immediately be overthrown.

For instance, an official at Quai d'Orsay pointed out that the huge ministry of marine is occupying an entire block facing Place Concorde, where thousands of state employes "work" administering the tiny French fleet. He pointed out that the site could be sold for a fabulous sum, transformed into a huge modern hotel without altering the facade, which is a work of art, and then pay enormous taxes.

The same is true of the ministry of justice in Place Vendome. The Hotel Ritz, which is next to it, would pay a fortune to obtain it in order to double the hotel's size. Scores of other huge state buildings, swarming with functionaries and situated in the most expensive part of the city, might be sold for large prices and then become tax paying properties.

Chance to Build Flats.

A strip of land averaging half a mile wide, where the fortifications are being demolished, surrounds Paris, but the ministry of war still retains the title, not permitting the building of apartments, which Paris lacks so badly. These would yield immense sums and large taxation, and also solve the problem of housing thousands now forced to live in distant suburbs or huddled five or six in a room in filthy, unventilated tenements.

One of the chief reasons for the declining birth rate in Paris, an official said, is the impossibility of finding lodgings for the poor people, which would be obviated through the building of a ring of big, modern, low rent apartments on the ministry of war's useless "defense zone" where fortifications stood.

All Due to a Cable Error.

The sudden discussion by French official circles and the press is all due to a mistake. This became known tonight when the French semi-official agency, Havas, announced that Gen. Charles G. Dawes did not pronounce the words attributed to him at the bankers' luncheon in Chicago, but Sir George Falsch was the actual author of the speech. An error in cable transmission is blamed.

Whether Gen. Dawes or Sir George was responsible, the speech urging a French "Dawes plan" maintains first importance in the French eyes, as insinuating the possibility of a conclusion of debts. The important French political newspapers still insist the speech came from Gen. Dawes and refuse to be convinced of any mistake in cable transmission.

GERMANY PAYS MORE

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—S. Parker Gilbert, agent-general for reparations payments, has issued a statement covering receipts and disbursements for the month of January. In that period he received 108,317,307.74 gold marks and paid out 103,575,248.33 gold marks.

In round numbers the payments distributed among the allied nations were as follows: Great Britain, 18,339,465; France, 47,278,616; Italy, 8,968,935; Belgium, 9,334,586; Japan, 293,297; Serb-Croat-Slovene state, 2,076,762; Portugal, 724,894; Roumania, 246,714; Greece, 84,122.

The expenses of the military commission of control totaled 1,233,232. The remainder of the expenditures were chiefly devoted to administrative costs of the various commissions, such as the reparations, the Rhine high commission, and the naval and the agent-general's staff.

The cumulative receipts to Jan. 31 for the first annual year amounted to 394,551,255.03, against which are total payments of 351,396,145.29, leaving a cash balance in the Reichsbank of 13,155,109.74.

The German gold mark is worth 23.83 cents.

PAPER CHARGES $2,000,000 BRIBE IN OIL SCANDAL

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Legal proceedings dealing with hitherto unrevealed alleged bribes in connection with the Teapot Dome oil scandal will be begun within a few days in Cheyenne, Wyo., and Paris, France, the World announces this morning.

Information obtained from official sources in Washington was that government prosecutors now believe $2,000,000 changed hands when the leases were granted, according to the story. It is to run down leads on this angle that the unusual procedure, the court action in France, will be resorted to.

H. M. Blackmer, former head of the Midwest Refining company, and James E. O'Neill, until recently president of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, once a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, will be called into Paris courts to be questioned concerning disposition of $3,000,000 profits in an oil deal about the time the Teapot Dome leases were granted.

Owen D. Roberts, special prosecutor, recently announced in a Canadian court that $90,000 in liberty bonds had found their way into the hands of Albert B. Fall and $143,000 more to persons "close to Fall."

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MAGDEBURG, Germany, Feb. 25.—Thousands of staunch supporters of the German republic met here today to celebrate the first birthday of the "Reichsbanner." The old Saxon capital, with its narrow, winding streets and ancient houses, was a fit setting for Germany's youngest militant organization, formed in defense of the republican idea.

The celebrations began last night, when the boundary posts separating the various German states were burned in a huge bonfire, symbolizing the end of the separation of the states. There was tremendous cheering when the boundary posts separating Germany and Austria were hurled into the fire.

AGED RECLUSE STRANGLED TO DEATH IN SHOP

Reputed Miser's Skull Is Fractured Also.

A droopy old horse, which, harnessed to a rickety little express wagon, had waited patiently the night through for his master in front of an odds and ends shop at 1461 Lake street, revealed a puzzling murder case to police yesterday.

In search of the horse's master, police broke open the shop door and stumbled upon the dead body of David Sigbee, aged recluse, lying upon the floor. He apparently had been dead for hours. Knotted tightly about his neck was a soiled towel and his feet were bound together. His right arm had been twisted behind his back and tightly, and later examination revealed the skull was fractured.

Sigbee was known in the neighborhood as a miser.

Police Get No Clue.

After several hours spent in questioning nearby residents, mostly colored, Capt. Ira J. McDowell of the Des Plaines street station and Lieut. John L. Sullivan of the detective bureau admitted they had been unable to obtain a single clue to the slayer. However, Paul Turner, colored, 315 North Robey street, was taken into custody for questioning.

Sigbee, a well known figure in the vicinity for years, is known to have been alive up to 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, when two young Negro residents of the neighborhood saw him putting about his little shop, a candle in his hand.

Sigbee's Mysterious Past.

A woman, known only to police as "Mrs. R. Smith," is being sought. A note signed by the woman's name was found tucked into Sigbee's vest pocket. The note, written Saturday, said that the woman had called concerning the purchase of one of Sigbee's stores, but not finding him in would return at 6 o'clock.

NEW REFORMATION IN RELIGION ON ITS WAY, DR. FOSDICK ASSERTS

New York, Feb. 22.—The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, whose services as a special preacher at the First Presbyterian church end on March 1 by order of the New York presbytery, declared today in his farewell sermon that a new religious reformation was on its way which might possibly have to split away from the evangelical churches as the Lutheran reformation had to split from the old church.

"Multitudes of Christians," he added, "have not the religion of Jesus," but only the "religion about Jesus," and "the religion about Jesus tends to crowd out, smother and destroy the religion of Jesus."

One theory is that the woman kept her appointment and that some lover, seeing her give the old man money, later returned to rob and kill him.

In his search for the true identity of "Old Sigbee," as he was known to the neighborhood, Lieut. John L. Sullivan particularly scanned a soiled and bethumbed note upon black-bordered stationery found in the recluse's desk. It was a note from Rodman Wanamaker, Philadelphia merchant, dated March 1, 1923, and was in appreciation of a letter of condolence upon the death of Mr. Wanamaker's father on Dec. 12, 1922.

Note from Wanamaker.

The note read:

TAX CUT TO BE EARLY JOB FOR NEXT CONGRESS

Big Incomes Slated for Surtax Relief.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—A cut in the taxes paid in 1926 on incomes received during the current year, as sweeping as that made through the 1924 revenue law for the taxes to be paid beginning March 15, will be put through the new congress, according to plans already well under way. This time, however, the reductions will be made chiefly in the higher surtaxes and will be intended chiefly for incomes of more than $10,000.

Representative William R. Green (Rep., Ia.), chairman of the ways and means committee, who is certain to retain that post in the new house, has arranged to call to Washington late in September or the first of October, the members of his committee to begin work on a general tax reduction bill.

Mellon Working on New Plan.

In addition, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is having prepared a new tax plan, which he wishes to lay before the President by the end of the present fiscal year.

It is probable that when the ways and means committee comes together it will have before it the new Mellon plan and also a bill by Chairman Green. It is hoped to get the proposed tax legislation through congress before Jan. 1, 1926.

DOCTORS FIND DEVICE TO SOBER UP DRUNKS, EVEN THE UNCONSCIOUS

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Speedy resuscitation of patients unconscious from alcohol and relief of milder symptoms of intoxication are reported by Drs. T. F. Hunter and S. G. Mudd of Boston, who have been experimenting with an apparatus now used by the New York Edison company for administering oxygen and carbon dioxide. The device has been very effective, according to Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, in saving the lives of asphyxiated persons, but has not yet been introduced here as a treatment for alcoholism.

Use of a small quantity of carbon dioxide to stimulate the breathing of persons suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning was worked out by Drs. Vandell, Henderson, and Howard W. Haggard at Yale. It was found valuable also in increasing the respiration of patients after operations and enabling them to get rid of the ether in lungs and blood. The latter use suggested to Dr. Haggard the probable therapeutic value of carbon dioxide and oxygen in acute alcoholic cases.

Sinclair Concessions in Saghalien Declared Dead

MOSCOW, Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gregory Pyatkov, chairman of the concessions committee of the soviet government, issued a statement today which indicates that the government considers the Sinclair oil concessions in Saghalien virtually dead. The statement says the agreement with the Sinclair interests was not abrogated by the Russo-Japanese treaty, but rather by the Sinclair company's own act in failing to carry out the terms of the agreement within a specified time.

Flapper Pal Looks On as Pair Rob Taxi Man

While a flapper companion, about 19 years old, looked on early yesterday, two young robbers held up Jack Levine, 1412 South Turner avenue, in his cab and robbed him of $43.

THIEVES ESCAPE WITH MACHINES WEIGHING TONS

It looks as though the blowtorch industry will see a new rival open for business bright and early this morning. The Combination Blowtorch Manufacturing company, 1111 Main street, Melrose Park, professes an unusually keen interest in any commercial venture inaugurated today.

Enterprising thieves with trucks, entered the Melrose Park plant early yesterday and walked out with the following under their arms:

Two punch presses; weight two tons each.

Three motors; weight 1,000 pounds each.

Every shaft, pulley and connection in the place.

All the office furniture.

John Peterson, president of the company, estimates his loss at $25,000.

FELLOWSHIP FOR ADVANCED STUDY ABROAD BEGUN

Guggenheim Millions Go to Aid Research.

(Picture on back page.)

New York, Feb. 22.—Announcement was made tonight of a preliminary gift of $1,000,000 by Simon Guggenheim, mining magnate and former United States senator from Colorado, to endow John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation fellowships for advanced study abroad.

The fellowships, to be awarded on a program even broader than that of the Rhodes scholarships, will be a memorial to Mr. Guggenheim's son who died in 1922 while preparing for Harvard and study abroad.

The announced purpose of the foundation is: "To improve the quality of education and the practice of the arts and professions in the United States, to foster research, and to provide for the cause of better international understanding."

No Sex, Race or Creed Barred.

The Guggenheim scholarships will be open to men and women, married or single, of every race, color, and religion. Any subject may be studied in any country in the world. There are no age limits, but it is expected that most appointees will be between 25 and 35 years old.

The principal obligation will be that appointees shall produce contributions to knowledge in their special studies and make the results of their studies publicly available.

The first fellowships will be awarded for the academic year 1926-27. Each scholar will receive about $2,500 a year. Larger or smaller sums, and longer or shorter appointments than one year may be granted in individual cases. After the first year it is expected that forty to fifty scholars will be appointed annually.

We realize," Mr. Guggenheim said in a statement, "that some of the most minds and most conservative thinkers have been seriously hampered in turning their natural gifts to the advancement of knowledge by lack of adequate financial backing. I want to do my part to meet this need."

"It has been my observation from the outside," Mr. Guggenheim said, "that just about the time a young man has finished college and is prepared to do valuable research, he is compelled to spend his whole time in teaching, losing the impulse for creative work in his subject, which should be preserved in order to make his teaching of the utmost value in the carrying on of civilization."

Help to College Professors.

"I have been informed that the salary of a professor is often not taken advantage of because professors can not go abroad on half salary, and it is for this reason that we have provided that members of teaching staffs on our appointments will be eligible for these appointments."

"It has seemed to me," Mr. Guggenheim continued, "that the educational systems of Europe are superior to ours in one respect, in that they offer greater opportunities to young men to become and remain productive scholars. It is my hope that this foundation will do something to provide for young men and women in the United States."

Noted Men on Committee.

A bill for a special charter for the foundation will be introduced tomorrow at Albany by Senator Courtlandt Knoll and Assemblyman Phelps Phelps.

The board of trustees will be: Simon Guggenheim, president; Mrs. Olga Guggenheim, Francis H. Brown, vice president; Charles A. Wilson, Charles D. Hillier, Roger N. Straus, Charles Earle, Henry Allen, vice secretary; Otto Myers, treasurer.

Among the members of the advisory committee will be: President Frank Taylor, Swarthmore college; Prof. F. Tucker Brooke, Yale; Chancellor Samuel Paul Capen, University of Buffalo; Prof. Edward Capps, Princeton; and Dean Marion Talbot, University of Chicago.

ROW JEOPARDIZES STONE MOUNTAIN MEMORIAL

A row is in progress between factions in charge of the Stone mountain confederate memorial, and unless the dispute is soon ended it is feared the whole project will be jeopardized. Part of the blame for the trouble is laid to Ku Klux Klan influence.

POLICEMAN RISKS LIFE TO ARREST TWO ARMED MEN

A policeman who is father of six children, yesterday morning risked his life to save two men from killing each other in a duel in the dark at 4634 Prairie avenue.

Patrolman William Bilawski, hearing shots, walked to the rear of the building and was confronted threateningly by Lonnie Hall, 21, colored, who was armed with a shotgun. Bilawski overpowered him just as three revolver shots whizzed out of the darkened house.

The policeman flashed his light into the room and saw Samuel Thomas, 18, also colored, with a pistol in his hand. Bilawski went in and dragged him out by the collar.

CLOCK WRAPPED IN PAPER CAUSES BOMB INQUIRY

A time bomb that policemen handled gingerly after they had taken it yesterday from the transom of C. O. La Salle's apartment at 5037 Forrest avenue, turned out to be nothing but an alarm clock, wrapped in paper. The policeman hurried it into La Salle's back yard but it didn't explode.

La Salle thinks the clock was put there to frighten him. There is a quarrel on between apartment residents, his neighbors, and colored persons who want to live in the block, he said.

STONE MOUNTAIN PROJECT PERILED BY LEADERS' ROW

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—A row is apparently in progress over the Stone Mountain confederate memorial.

Friends of the great project are beginning to fear that unless some time is done to cure the sore spots the whole proposition may be jeopardized.

At the head of one camp is Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, and the head of the other camp is Hollins Randolph, an Atlanta lawyer, who (Inset & Encl. Photo.) in a statement declares Mr. Borglum is principally responsible.

All sorts of reports are current in Washington, one of the most persistent being that the Ku Klux Klan has sought to influence the management of the project, with the result that help of many prominent southerners has been lost, particularly in New Orleans, Mobile and other cities where there are large Catholic and Jewish populations.

It is pointed out that Gen. Beauregard, Admiral Semmes, the late Chief Justice Edward D. White, and the famous southern poet, Father Abraham Ryan, were of the Catholic faith, while of the Jews who stood with the confederacy were Judah Benjamin, secretary of state under Jefferson Davis, and Sir Moses Ezekiel, one of Lee's own officers.

Mr. Borglum charges that "an acute crisis" exists. On the other hand, Mr. Randolph, who was one of the McAdoo leaders at the Democratic convention in New York, intimates that a movement is under way to take the work out of Mr. Borglum's hands.

One suggestion to clear up the situation is a new committee to be named by southern governors.

Northwestern university doors will be closed to students this morning as a result of the rapid spread of smallpox, starting last week with one case and now totalling nine.

All pupils who could be reached last night were notified not to attend until they are vaccinated. Others will be dismissed as soon as they appear today and none of the 2,500 campus pupils will be allowed in class until vaccinated.

A girl who lives off the campus but spent a night with friends in Willard hall last week is believed to have infected others in two girls' dormitories.

One Motorman Is Blamed.

Preliminary investigation is said to have disclosed that one of the motorists was responsible in that he was trying to make a station before the other car departed therefrom.

Fred Rhodes of Rockford, pilot of the two-wheel car, is probably driver of his injuries and has been unable to talk about the accident.

First persons to reach the scene were nearby farmers, and they strove valiantly to rescue the injured from the telescoped coaches. A fast Chicago and Northwestern train was halted on a nearby line, and the men and women most seriously hurt were carried aboard and taken to Freeport, where ambulances from a hospital were waiting.

Among the others more seriously injured were:

Paul Jones, an instructor at the Freeport High school and former track and football star at De Paul university, Chicago; Helen Maurer, Freeport; Mrs. James B. Scott, Rockford; Miss Irene Seaton, Peconica; Mrs. M. Cowell, Peconica; Lee Rogers, Rockford; C. W. Becker, Rockford; Chester Pence, Rockford; Charles Sears, Marengo, and William Berridge, Peconica.

2 DIE, 11 HURT IN INTERURBAN CAR COLLISION IN FOG

on Rockford Line.

Racing at forty-five miles an hour, two interurban cars of the Rockford and Freeport line catapulted out of the fog shortly before noon yesterday and collided with a splintering crash on the single track line fourteen miles east of Freeport, Ill.

Inside the coaches were two small coal stoves used for heating purposes. An instant after the crash the wreckage was in flames and a little later only the blackened trucks remained on the tracks.

Two Persons Are Killed.

Two persons are known to be dead and eleven are so seriously injured that their recovery is conjectural.

The body of George Chapman, motorman of the eastbound car, was found crushed in the vestibule of his coach, and only the charred bits of flesh and clothing frantically dragged from the burning car showed that an unknown woman also was killed and burned.

Soon after Coroner E. E. Distelmier of Freeport arrived he found a piece of pelvic bone, part of a spinal column, and a piece of a shin bone. No other portions of the human body were discovered. Whether these are all that remain of the dead woman has not yet been determined.

The accident occurred half way between Elkhart and Peconica, and the dead woman was believed to have boarded the eastbound car at a station shortly before the accident.

Scott, Rockford; Miss Irene Seaton, Peconica; Mrs. M. Cowell, Peconica; Lee Rogers, Rockford; C. W. Becker, Rockford; Chester Pence, Rockford; Charles Sears, Marengo, and William Berridge, Peconica.

JOHN McCORMACK RESCUED AFTER DANGER IN GULF

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 22.—[United News.]—After drifting helplessly for more than five hours in a disabled boat in the gulf stream, John McCormack, tenor, was rescued late today.

McCormack, accompanied by George F. Aitken of New York and William Vernon of Pittsburgh, left Miami early this morning on the chartered boat Editha for a fishing trip.

Shortly after noon the boat's engine failed and the craft, a twenty-footer, was carried out into the gulf. The Captain Bill, operated by Capt. William Newmann, sighted the frail craft and after much difficulty managed to reach it with a line and towed it into port.

Forced to Sleep with Lion, Frenchman Asks Divorce

PARIS, Feb. 22.—[Jules Garonne, an animal trainer in a traveling circus, is suing for divorce, alleging cruelty.]

"Whenever I come home late my wife refuses to permit me to enter the circus van where we live and frequently I am forced to go to the menagerie and sleep in a cage with Brutus, my man eating lion," the husband alleges.

Wife Shoots Husband While He Stabs Her

James Spariotti, 5747 Prairie avenue, and his wife hacked and shot each other into two hospitals late last night during a family quarrel. Spariotti went to the Washington Park hospital with four bullets in his body and may die. Mrs. Spariotti is in the Chicago hospital with a dozen knife wounds about her face and body.

Seize Alleged Bootlegger After Moonshine Death

Joseph Ciccolli, 2137 Flournoy street, was arrested yesterday, charged with having sold the moonshine which caused the death early yesterday of Patrick Leahy, 47 years old, a driver for Martin Bros. Coal company, 3140 West Harrison street.

PIANIST TELLS STORY OF HOW SHE VANISHED

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Ethel Leginska's version of how she vanished on the night of Jan. 26 while an audience waited in Carnegie hall for her piano recital was made public today.

Miss Leginska told of leaving her apartment on the night of the Carnegie hall concert to look for a taxicab.

"If I had found one right way, I probably would have gone there automatically," she said. "But as I slipped through one dark west side street after another the world grew hazy. I must have walked for about two hours."

"The thing which brought me up with a start was the sudden realization that the concert must be over."

"I felt desperate. I found I had walked far downtown in Manhattan, and I did not have a cent of money with me. I remembered some friends living nearby and I walked miserably on to their house."

"I could hear music singing in my head. I asked for paper and sat down at my friend's piano and wrote. Then I felt better and knew I could face people again."

EX-CABBY AGAIN IS TARGET TODAY AT STOKES TRIAL

Both Sides to Question
Joseph Bruner.

There will be another hearing today of the trial of W. E. D. Stokes and others charged with conspiracy to defame the character of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes. Court will be held despite the holiday and Joseph Bruner, cab driver, who in former days catered to red light district patrons, will be the only witness.

Attorney John J. Healy, representing Daniel Nugent, one of Stokes' codefendants, plans to cross-examine Bruner throughout the morning session. Then Attorney Charles Rathbun, counsel for Stokes, will subject Bruner to questioning.

To Tell of His Arrest.
Assistant State's Attorney Milton D. Smith and W. W. Smith say they have proved their point by Bruner and are not interested in what the defense does with him. They will on redirect examination, have him tell of his arrest a week ago by the state's attorney's office, just to clear up the incident, they said yesterday.

A woman caller at her hotel yesterday persisted in trying to see Mrs. Stokes. William C. Dannenberg, her chief investigator, questioned the woman who would not explain her mission. Dannenberg said she appeared to be under the effects of drug or liquor or was mentally unbalanced.

She Returns Again.
In the afternoon the woman returned and again asked to see Mrs. Stokes. Dannenberg went again to the hotel and questioned her. This time, he said, the woman seemed to have recovered and to be normal. She said she was Mrs. Lorraine Quarty, a widow of Philadelphia, and that she didn't wish to talk to Mrs. Stokes at all. She was seeking some other woman.

3 BUILDINGS OF SAME MAN FIRED BY INCENDIARIES

Incendiaries are blamed for three fires which started simultaneously early this morning in three different buildings owned by Samuel Zucker on North Clark street. Flames were first seen in the grocery store of Samuel Sorin, 2336 North Clark street, and the fire department was summoned. It was then seen that another fire was burning in the butcher shop of Fred Leachman, 2334 North Clark street, and still another in a building across the street owned by Zucker. The flames were soon extinguished, with a loss estimated at $10,000.

MORE RAIN TODAY TO FOLLOW FOG OF LONDON STYLE

The easiest way to describe it is to say Chicago looked like London all day yesterday and last night. The technical story is that a "low pressure area produced conditions ideal for a dense fog."

It will be rainy today, the weather bureau said. Thunderstorms swept across southern Illinois last night and up toward northern Indiana but they will skip Chicago. More rain, coming from British Columbia, may arrive by Tuesday night.

Optimists who sought the time on the Wrigley clock couldn't see its face because of the fog.

ALL BODIES OUT, BEREAVED TURN TO THE CEMETERY

51 Deaths Will Be Paid For by Insurance.

Sullivan, Ind., Feb. 22.—[By Associated Press.]—An unceasing search started by mine rescue teams for the bodies of fifty-one men entombed after an explosion in the City Coal company's shaft here last Friday ended early today, when the last corpse was brought to the surface.

Burial of the dead was started, services for two of the victims being held here and for another at Dugger, Ind. There will be no community funeral. Each family will care for its own dead. In several instances where two members of a family perished a single service will be held.

Red Cross on the Job.
Under the direction of Henry Baker of Washington and Eugene Foster of Indianapolis, both representatives of the Red Cross, plans were completed for extending any relief necessary to the bereaved families.

Albert Dally, state mine inspector, who directed the removal of the bodies, left for Indianapolis, but announced he would return on Tuesday to make further inquiry into the cause of the explosion. Mr. Dally's investigation apparently will be the only official inquiry.

Sullivan county officials who have made informal inquiries are disposed to accept the theory that the explosion was caused by the sudden precipitation into the mine of a quantity of gas from an earthen pocket, the gas being ignited by the spark from a miner's tool or the flare from a worker's lamp.

Negligence Not to Blame.
Norval K. Harris, Sullivan county prosecutor, said he discovered no evidence of negligence in the observance of safety rules. The use of open lamps is not prohibited by the Indiana state law, he pointed out.

Henry L. Humrichouse, member of the state industrial board, arrived and began arrangements to expedite the payments to which families of the victims are entitled under the workmen's compensation law.

"The City Coal company is strongly insured," said Mr. Humrichouse, "and there will be no difficulty regarding the payments."

He said that the first checks would be sent to dependents during the coming week. The law provides for payments of $12.20 each week.

THIRD PARTY SPLIT 3 AT MEETING

Socialists, Labor at La Follette

The La Follette third party, disastrously defeated in the recent national elections, was the result of the merger of the Progressive and Socialist parties, which adjourned today.

Followers of Senator La Follette, who adopted the La Follette platform, the representatives of the labor organizations, the C. P. A. delegates, and other national and state socialists, were gathered at the La Follette hotel, where they were to discuss the future of the party.

THIRD PARTY IS SPLIT 3 WAYS AT MEETING HERE

Socialists, Laborers Balk at La Follette Plan.

The La Follette third party organization, disastrously defeated at the recent national elections is split three ways as the result of a meeting yesterday of the delegates to the Conference for Progressive Political Action, which adjourned since die on Saturday.

Followers of Senator La Follette adopted the La Follette plan for the perpetuation of the new party without the representatives of the sixteen labor organizations affiliated with the C. P. P. A. delegates, who withdrew Saturday.

At the same time some 5,000 Chicago Socialists in mass meeting at Carman's hall, Ashland avenue and Van Buren street, were addressed by Eugene V. Debs and other national Socialist leaders and warned that the affiliation of Socialists with any third party was against their common interests.

To Pick New Name.

A name for the new party organized under Senator La Follette's plan by the remnants of his organization of last fall is to be decided upon when a national convention is held, the date for which is to be set.

The Wisconsin senator's plan won when a majority report signed by six of a committee of seven delegates appointed at Saturday's meeting was adopted and the minority report signed by the remaining member of the committee was tabled by a vote of 93 to 64. The majority report calls for the party to consist of state organizations organized in conformity with the various state election laws. It recommends that the state organizations shall be autonomous and that the states themselves shall determine the lines on which they shall be formed.

To Seek Cooperation.

Among other things it also recommends that the cooperation of all organizations which supported Senator La Follette in the presidential campaign shall be sought; that the delegates to the national convention to be called shall be proportioned according to the number of votes cast under all party designations for La Follette in the recent election.

The minority report recommended that all state and local committees should admit to affiliation all organizations of workers, farmers and of progressive political and educational groups which would accept fully the third party principles.

It was tabled after Morris Hillquit, New York national Socialist party leader, spoke strongly in favor of it.

the Socialist massmeeting in Ashland auditorium. James O'Neal, who as Socialist candidate for governor of New York got 100,000 votes, also spoke, as did George Kirkpatrick, formerly professor of economics at Washington university.

All warned against the third party as being as inimical to the workers' interests as, according to the speakers, the two present major parties are.

BETTER COUNCIL DEPENDS UPON VOTE TOMORROW

Hot Fight Develops in the Forty-fourth Ward.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

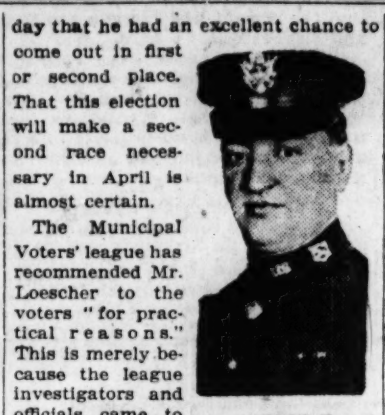

The Forty-fourth ward is the stage of a keen political battle in the contest for aldermanic places in tomorrow's election.

This is the home ward of William Hale Thompson. He is supporting Richard C. Mazer, an officer in the Fish Fans' club and former saloonkeeper. Mr. Thompson is hoping to carry the ward this time, as the opposition is split.

Opposing Mr. Mazer are Robert W. Dunn, W. Dunn, lawyer, former president of the Hamilton club, and Albert E. Loescher, a business man. Mr. Dunn has the Deneen organization behind him and Mr. Loescher has the Brundage force and the help of Thomas O. Wallace, former alderman of the ward and now clerk of the Circuit court.

Second Election Likely.

Friends of Mr. Dunn stated yesterday that he had an excellent chance to come out in first or second place. That this election will make a second race necessary in April is almost certain.

ALBERT E. LOESCHER.
(Koehe Photo.)

The Municipal Voters' league has recommended Mr. Loescher to the voters "for practical reasons." This is merely because the league investigators and officials came to the conclusion that he had the strongest organization.

It is unfortunate, the league report stated, "that Mazer is opposed by two such excellent candidates as Loescher and Dunn, who may split the vote of the respectable element."

Mr. Dunn is the son of former Alderman Winfield Dunn and is stamped by the league as "a man of outstanding ability and excellent reputation." He was former chairman of the Association of Commerce good roads committee and counsel for the Illinois Highway Improvement association in the $60,000,000 bond issue.

Previous Voting Record.

In the last aldermanic election in this ward Mr. Wallace won a majority of 459 over five candidates. Mr. Wallace received 5,585 votes. His nearest rival, Frank A. West, got 3,434. In the primary election of last April Mr. Deneen got 2,779 votes in this ward and Senator McCormick 3,706. For governor, Essington received 3,375; Small, 3,365.

The other candidates in this ward are Mrs. Frank Townley Brown, Matthew L. Quinn, hardware merchant; Charles L. Beck, bailiff, and Raymond W. Moore, formerly clerk in the corporation counsel's office.

Trying to Meet a Great Responsibility

Every little while some one asks, "Why don't you advertise that you are the biggest bank west of New York, the third largest in the country, and one of the big banks of the world?"

It isn't easy to answer. We can't say that that position doesn't mean anything to us. We should hardly be human if we didn't feel satisfaction at this distinction.

But large size carries with it correspondingly large responsibility, and being the biggest bank in the west means that we have the biggest financial obligation in this enormous territory. It means that more people have placed their confidence in us and that we have to live with our customers in hard times as well as in good times. It means that we have to be ready to finance a great corporation that will bring much employment to the community, as well as know how to advise a widow to get the most out of her thousand dollar insurance; it means that if a customer wants to sell goods in Patagonia or any other far-off region of the world, we have to help prepare his financial way. It means that we have to help to stabilize the prosperity of the whole country, as well as of our individual customers. It is a great responsibility, and we are constantly trying to fulfill it.

ROGERS PARKERS FIGHT TO RETAIN RECLAIMED LAND

A fight over the election of three north shore park commissioners to-morrow centers in Rogers Park, with 1,400 citizens calling upon all other voters of the district to support a ticket they have placed in the field.

Candidates on the ticket backed by the Rogers Parkers, called the North Shore Park party, are Walter J. Haymer, former alderman; Arthur H. Chetlain, and George W. McCabe. The North Shore Park party charges that James P. Ward and Peter Angsten, candidates for reelection, are committed with the present board to the sale of filled-in lands, which under the law should be retained for north shore park purposes.

They charge that $6,000,000 worth of such lands at Loyola avenue, North Shore avenue, and at Rogers avenue and the lake already have been given over to the speculators and buildings built thereon.

The North Shores claim the backing of both the Republican and Democratic organizations; they say a third ticket under the heading "Republican" has no right to such a name.

92,000,000 TONS OF WATER BORNE TRADE LAST YEAR

Washington, Feb. 22.—Water-borne commerce in the fiscal year of 1924, excluding coastwise traffic, amounted to 92,000,000 long tons, comprising imports of 42,890,000 tons and exports of 49,200,000 tons.

The ports ranked as follows: New York, 21,163,242; New Orleans, 6,956,408; Baltimore, 5,602,454; Philadelphia, 5,538,285; Buffalo, 4,259,786; Los Angeles, 3,312,864; San Francisco, 2,738,490; Galveston, 2,660,390; Port Arthur, 2,523,060; Boston, 2,492,422; and Norfolk, 2,434,207.

STREET CLEANING STRIKE MAY END ON WEDNESDAY

Chicago's white wings expect to go back to work Wednesday morning, it was indicated yesterday afternoon at a strike meeting in Musicians' hall, 175 West Washington street, attended by 2,000 of the city's street sweepers and repairmen, garbage collectors, and their foremen. They have been on strike since last Tuesday, demanding a 50 cent increase on their present pay of $6.10 a day.

They voted unanimously and vociferously that they wouldn't go back to work until their president, Michael Corrozzo, brought the city's finance committee to terms. And they likewise decided that any terms be made would be suitable to them. They anticipate a settlement will be made on his terms.

Have you ever bent over to pick up a pin, and as you arose, felt the blood pounding in your head, and felt a slight dizziness?

Is your sleep unrefreshing and disturbed by dreams? Do you suffer with gastric disturbances after meals? And do you feel that you lack vitality? These are but a few of the more common symptoms of high blood pressure. Statistics show that one out of every three persons with High Blood Pressure die within a year.

Dr. H. C. Cabot gives it as "the most common cause" of death. Dr. T. D. Scott says it "shortens life far more than cancer."

A life insurance company says, "The person with high blood pressure is liable to die before his time."

Yet in spite of this, the person with every symptom of high blood pressure will continue to drift along until one of the arteries of the brain bursts—which says Dr. Scott "is the frequent end."

If you ever suspect you have High Blood Pressure, you should investigate the Wilton Water Treatment, that has relieved thousands of sufferers and restored them to perfect health. Call at our office for FREE BLOOD PRESSURE TEST. We will mail the coupon for FREE BOTTLE and valuable FREE BOOKLET.

WOMEN MEET TO DEFEND U. S., NOT TO DEFAME HER!

Not a Pacifist or Lover of Aliens Among Them.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—A conference of American women on how to keep the peace got itself under way to a new note in Washington this afternoon.

No woman—and they came from as far west as Illinois, Iowa, Arizona, Oregon and Honolulu and from as far east as Vermont, Connecticut and North Carolina—was a woman raised against any country and least of all against her own country.

No woman declared the United States to be a menace if it did not disarm.

Nobody Calls Us Shylocks.

No woman said America was a shylock if it did not forgive its debtors.

No woman thought it necessary to strike out the American flag with any international streamer. In fact these women did not go in for streamers either of bunting or of language.

But they sounded such a new note in the matter of women conferences in this federal city that official and newspaper observers hearing the proceedings of the opening session in Red Cross hall could hardly believe their ears.

This conference will last four days. The delegates to it represent fifteen national organizations with a membership of more than a million.

Had Kin in Big War.

Seven of those organizations are composed of women who had kinsmen in the world war.

President and Mrs. Coolidge will receive the delegates at the White House tomorrow noon and the President will address them. At tomorrow's sessions in Red Cross hall the speakers will be Brig. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, assistant chief of staff, on "Causes and Prevention of War"; Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, on "National Defense"; Dwight F. Davis, assistant secretary of war, on "Industrial Preparedness"; Maj. Gen. Ely A. Hines, inspector general, on "Undermining the Youth of a Nation"; and John W. Weeks, secretary of war, on "Ideals of the Republic."

Represented at Conference.

National organizations represented at the conference are:

Daughters of the American Revolution.

Women's Relief Corps, G. A. R.

Women's Overseas Service League.

Ladies of the G. A. R.

National Society United Daughters of 1812.

Colonial Dames of America.

American Nurses' association.

Service Star Legion.

American War Mothers.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

Women's Club of the Service Flag.

American Women's Legion.

Women's Auxiliary of Spanish-American War Veterans.

Government Club of New York.

American Legion auxiliary.

This conference is the first of the kind in the history of the republic.

MEMBERS OF HOUSE EULOGIZE KAHN AT MEMORIAL SERVICES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Republicans and Democrats joined today at a memorial service in the house chamber in tribute to the late Representative Julius Kahn.

(Rep., Cal.) who died in December.

With Representative Barbour (Rep., Cal.), presiding, eulogies were delivered by Representative Garrett (Dem., Tenn.), Representative McKenzie (Rep., Ill.), who succeeded Mr. Kahn as chairman of the military affairs committee; Representative Sabath (Dem., Ill.), and others.

Recalling that Mr. Kahn was born in Germany, Mr. Garrett said the veteran legislator was "one of the most conspicuous figures in the civil life of America, contributed tremendously to the defeat of the country in which he was born."

TRAP AMERICANS IN PARIS RAID ON "RUSSIAN SHOW"

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 22.—A scandal involving members of leading families in Paris society, including four Americans—two men and two women—is expected to follow a police raid early this morning on an apartment in Rue Notre Dame de Nazareth. Four Russians, members of the old aristocracy, who were holding an orgy entitled "Art Spectacles," were arrested.

Suspicion was aroused by the appearance of a score of limousines drawn up nightly outside the apartment. Investigation showed wealthy callers visited the apartment of a former captain in the czar's imperial navy, who lived with his beautiful young wife, Marthe, a member of one of the oldest Moscow families, and a cousin and his wife.

The detectives found the quartet of Russians doing nude poses while spectators, intoxicated from liquor and cocaine, in various stages of undress, sprawled around the thickly carpeted floor on huge silken cushions and applauded the vicious exhibition.

The police examined the papers and took the names and addresses of everybody present, experiencing difficulty because the male and female spectators could not find their clothing from the pile of garments tossed about the room, as they had divested themselves under the influence of drugs.

ASSOCIATION OF CITIZENS FAVORS BONDS FOR JAIL

The Citizens' association, through Augustus S. Peabody, its president, yesterday went on record as favoring passage of the jail bond issue at Tuesday's election.

SMALL BOY IS HURT WHEN CAR UPSETS ON ROAD

Maid Killed, Raising 1925
Toll to 81.

John Tukos, 621 Francis street, Phoenix, Ill., took his 11 year old son, Edward, out for a drive in the family Buick yesterday afternoon. He took a bottle of moonshine along, too.

A minute later, while racing up a slight hill, something went wrong. The car turned over and Edward was pinned under it. His skull was fractured and he may die.

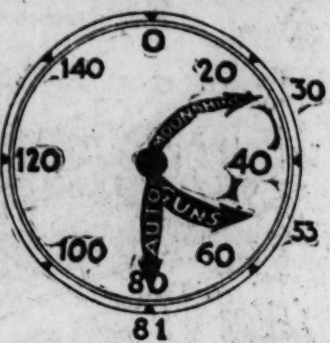

The father slept in a cell last night, awaiting trial.

A car driven by Jerry Freud, 23, 644 South Michigan avenue, early yesterday killed Miss Hannah Sullivan, 45, a maid at the Cooper-Carlton hotel. Miss Sullivan was run down in front of 5475 Lake Park avenue.

Driver Held by Police.
Freud, who was accompanied by two men and two women, said the accident was unavoidable, but police held him for the inquest today. He is a University of Illinois student. The death raised the 1925 toll in Cook county to 81.

August Lucas was stricken dead Saturday when he was knocked from a hayrack by the impact of an auto.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the fifty-third day of 1925.

driven by Mrs. Ernest E. Lehmann, wife of one of the former owners of The Fair. The accident occurred twelve miles west of Waukegan.

Miss Lillian Halm, 25 years old, 2021 Grace street, was seriously injured last night when the cab in which she was riding skidded and crashed into one of the uprights in the viaduct under the Northwestern railroad tracks in Irving Park boulevard.

Four Injured in Crash.
Four colored persons were injured last night, one of them so severely that he may die, when two cars crashed at 46th street and Greenwood avenue, pinning a pedestrian between them. James Flanagan, 4537 Vincennes avenue, the pedestrian, was not seriously hurt, but Carson G. Martin, 4620 Vincennes avenue, suffered internal injuries. His wife and son Robert, 8, were also injured.

DIRIGIBLE WILL REPEAT BERMUDA TRIP; TRY ANCHOR

Lakehurst, N. J., Feb. 22.—(United News.)—The naval dirigible Los Angeles, which sailed away to Bermuda and had to come all the way back without anchoring, will try it again within a few days. Later she may try a trip to England.

The airship returned into her hangar at Lakehurst flying field at 2:25 o'clock this morning, after making the trip to the island and back in twenty-five hours of flying time.

"The Los Angeles has again demonstrated its remarkable airworthiness," said Admiral W. A. Moffet, head of the naval bureau of aeronautics, who was aboard the craft.

"We're going back to Bermuda Tuesday or Wednesday to test the dirigible at the mooring mast of the U. S. S. Patoka. The rain prevented our carrying out the test on this trip. It soaked the cover of the Los Angeles' envelope so that it was difficult to descend and then, too, there was mist and fog that added to the hazard."

WAS CAILLAUX RIGHT?

Caillaux is back. The man is the same. The place is the same. But the time is very different. He came back once before. Then it was after scandal and killing in the early months of 1914. Now it is after trial for treason, prison, and exile in 1918. Caillaux comes back with power in his hands and the cheers of the many in his ears. His enemy Clemenceau sits in retirement in a little house by himself. His enemy Poincaré waits in savage fury to complete the revenge so well begun. His friend Herriot is premier of France. Caillaux himself, it is said, will be premier of France before long.

In 1917 Caillaux was the hated deflator. In December, 1917, he made his last great speech before the chamber. Then came the vote, 392 to 2, to remove his parliamentary immunity. Arrest followed, trial, prison, exile, and now amnesty by his friend Herriot. His history has been a series of engagements. Caillaux has changed little. France has changed much.

In 1917 Caillaux wanted an accord with Germany, and the powers that were France well nigh got his life. Today Caillaux wants an accord with Germany, and France acclaims him as a leader out of the darkness. Then Caillaux feared the bloody drain of further war and a vindictive peace. He was willing to give Germany a legitimate outlet into Asia Minor in return for Alsace-Lorraine and a French outlet into North Africa. And today many statesmen agree that the too long war and the hard peace wrecked not only Europe but France. France is not the France of 1917. Many if not most Frenchmen believe the man convicted for conspiracy against his country to be a patriot and a statesman. The man who survives defameation seems always the greater for it.

Today Caillaux means amelioration in Europe. The wounds of the conflict have been too long exacerbated by men like Poincaré, Foch, and Millerand. From Briand to Herriot to Caillaux are three steps to peace and accord with the land across the Rhine, if not alliance. It will be an alliance for building, not for war. But what the ultimate consequence may be is less certain.

For Caillaux's liberalism may well be the only basis—if the French militarists had knew it—for building up a continental bloc in Europe. The Poincarés would build a French hegemony from the peripheral fragments of Europe, Poland, "Bohemia," the Balkans, to control the central Teuton mass. But Caillaux's imagination is more financial, social, economic, and less military. And the folly, to him, of ruining Germany is disaster to a bloodless, panting France. He wants a quiet France and a friendly Germany.

Was Caillaux right in 1917? Is he right now? The distress and restlessness of France today and the wreck of Europe would seem to say so. The French at least appear to think him vindicated. What will come of it cannot be guessed. But Britain and America will do well to assure themselves that the French rapprochement in respect to Germany be not a corresponding estrangement between Germany and the English speaking peoples. The people of Teutonic blood form the most national block in the world. It should be preserved.

CLEAN AIR AND CLEAN WATER.

Two ways to public health are indicated by City Engineer Ericson in his proposal to build four new municipal plants on top of filtration plants. One way is clean water. The other way is clean air. His project would provide both.

The filtration plants, he says, are necessary anyhow. With the Calumet river, laden with sewage and industrial waste, flowing into the lake 125 days out of 365 last year, with other sources of pollution increasing every year, the normal dose of chlorine in the Chicagoan's glass of water is not enough to make it medically clean. The answer, says Engineer Ericson, is filtration plants. We must have them eventually.

The sanitation and water supply problem in Chicago is only beginning to reveal its true magnitude. Our sanitary canal was a good beginning, but it did not end the difficulty. Beyond the big ditch lie meters, sewage disposal plants, filtration plants and the salvage of Lake Michigan from pollution. As the great population area around the south end of the lake increases that problem will become more pressing. The $30,000,000 required for Engineer Ericson's pier filtration project will be only a fraction of what must be spent. To that idea Chicago might as well get accustomed soon.

And beyond clean water is clean air as an increasing necessity to Chicago's public health. As an experiment in clean air and fresh breezes our municipal pier, now in operation, has been an unquestionable success. As an amusement center it gives happiness and health to thousands who otherwise might burden the city's sick lists and streets of discontent. It has brought their evening's dance and hilarity into the fresh air and that is good for the city. The clean air problem has not been fully realized, but its seriousness is probably not much less than that of clean water. Four municipal piers on top of four filtration plants will cost far less for both than the two projects separately. And the city plumbing bill for filtration decorated with a bill for public amusement would not be so hard to pay. It combines pleasure and public health. It will develop Chicago's harbor plan. Piers for pleasure and commerce on top of filtration plants seem to us a sound combination.

VOTE YES ON THE BONDS.

Two bond issues are to be voted on throughout the county and five in the city in the election tomorrow. They are:

COUNTY.	Amount of bond issue.
For a new county jail and Criminal court building.....	$4,500,000
For an addition to the county hospital.....	2,250,000
CITY.
For a new Central police station and Municipal Criminal courts.....	2,500,000
For extending and rehabilitating street lighting system.....	1,000,000
For purchase of incinerator, destructor, and garbage dump.....	1,000,000
For small parks and playgrounds.....	500,000
For truck elevators to be reimbursed by Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway.....	1,500,000

In our opinion all these are to be recommended to the voters. They are for improvements, some of them badly needed, and all for the good of the community. The way police suspects and people accused of misdemeanor or crimes are handled is a bit of savagery. The hospital needs of the county must be met. All the bonds should be authorized.

NOW GIVE FEDERAL JUDGES MORE MONEY.

Congress has given the President its bill for the increase in its own pay and that of the Vice President and cabinet officers. The congressmen gave themselves a boost from $7,500 to $10,000 and raised the Vice President, speaker of the house, and members of the cabinet from $12,000 to $15,000. The house of representatives adopted the bill by standing up for a count of noses, not wanting to make a record of it.

The congressmen need not have been timid about it. Their money is not worth as much as it was when the pay was fixed before and all the pay increases were justified. Some Vice Presidents have had either to lecture or take in washing to meet living expenses. Congress has an anxious eye on an economical President, but the pay raise is right.

Now, how about the underpaid judges of the federal courts? There is an even better case for them. It frequently is a hardship for a talented man to take a federal judicial position or to remain on the bench many years. He does an injustice to himself and his family. This nation is not required to be small in the matter.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Civil service reform is becoming an issue again in this state because of the escape of many positions which ought to be in the classified merit system and which have been taken back by spoils. Bills prepared by the Civil Service Reform association and introduced in the legislature by Senator James J. Barbour would recover 4,000 places which have got away. The merit system means permanence in place during good service and it means an attempt to find proper qualification for the position filled. Without it public service is regulated on the basis of political reward.

HERE COMES NEBRASKA.

Wayne Munn seems to be the big grand slam of wrestling. He doesn't care whether he slams them on the mat or on the second balcony, but the boys who get slammed are asking where they will land next. Ed Lewis found himself hung up on the eighth row back the other night minus a championship. Romano, a hard baby weighing well beyond 300, says he can't play with big boys like Wayne.

Wayne is 6 feet 6 inches in altitude and weighs 260 pounds, but that isn't so much for Nebraska. He may be this year's bumper crop, but who knows about next year. They get bigger and better every year in Nebraska. He is a brand new golden bantam, but there are lots more just this side of the short grass country where he came from.

Wayne has found a new way to crack coconuts. He drops them from a high place, and Ed Lewis, Mike Romano, and other assorted heavies are the cocoanuts. That is new stuff in wrestling, but it is going big. Ask Lewis.

SUBMERGING ENGLAND.

The England of ships and adventure and sailors is itself going down into the sea. Like a ship that is slowly settling, the little island that sits on the shoulder of Europe is sinking into the element that made it great. Thirty-five villages in one stretch of fifty miles have been submerged. In Yorkshires fifteen feet of land goes every year. In Lowestoft $670,000 has been set aside for protection against marine encroachment.

England was once fast to the continent of Europe and the Thames was a tributary of the Rhine. That was not long ago as geology measures events, but it is before recorded history. Today that separation is still continuing. The splendid isolation that the sea once gave England may become in time her complete submergence. Nature may do in thousands of years what Napoleon and Ludendorff could not do, and England will emigrate to a more accurate terra firma.

Editorial of the Day

SENATOR BORAH'S PROPOSAL.
(New York Nation.)
Senator Borah's proposal to restore all alien property taken over by the government during the war, or to compensate the owners of it, ought not to excite surprise or opposition. It is, and should be regarded as, a routine procedure, unusual only in that it has been delayed too long. One of the positive gains that has been made in modern times is the hideous business of war is a general acceptance of the immunity of private property from seizure or unnecessary destruction, and our own insistence upon this principle, as applied to the high seas, was one of the chief reasons that led us into the European conflict. The office of the alien property custodian was created not to confiscate or ruin the property in this country of nations of countries with which we were at war, but to take temporary charge of it, partly to prevent its being used against us and partly to protect it in cases where administration by the owners was impossible. That is the accepted usage in civilized countries in modern times in effect, a trust. The fact that our officials shamelessly betrayed that trust in the effort to gain economic advantage for American industries does not alter any of the original and fundamental principles. It is time that we recognized them and acted accordingly, even though we have to undo accomplished facts and pay damages for our wantonness.

LOCOMOTOR ATAXIA.
F. B. writes: Will you let me know whether a locomotor ataxia is a disease of the spinal cord and how it should be treated? Is it anything like neuritis? Is it incurable?

REPLY.
Locomotor ataxia is a very chronic, low grade inflammation of a certain portion of the spinal cord. It starts where the roots of the nerves come off from the back part of the cord, and it extends into the neighboring parts of the cause itself.

Therefore, since neuritis means an inflammation of a nerve, locomotor ataxia at its inception is, properly speaking, a neuritis, though it is not a neuritis in the sense that most people understand that word.

The parts of the spinal cord and nerves first involved have to do with sensation rather than with motion. Therefore in the early stages pain is the outstanding symptom. It is attacks of sharp, shooting pains, which cause the sick person to run to his doctor. The pains may shoot down to the legs. They may run around the body or strike for the pit of the stomach. Rarely do they go down the arms or into the chest.

They are shooting pains and they are sharp. They are a little more apt to come on at night than at other times. Instead of being a pain, the trouble may take the form of numbness and tingling. A careless physician will ease the pain and go no further. A careful one will give ease and then follow up by digging down, looking for a cause. Some children with thread worms are benefited by taking worm candy or mebendazole.

BOOKS ON CHILDREN.
R. W. writes: Will you kindly write to me a list of books on child care and a book on how to raise children?

REPLY.
The U. S. Department of Labor, Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., gives away "Baby's First Year," "Child Care," "Three Difficult Problems," and "Most state and many city health departments give away booklets on these subjects to those who ask for them."

MILK FOR HICCUGHS.
Mrs. H. H. D. writes: A member of our family, aged 78 years, had the hiccoughs seven days and nights and at last, after taking all sorts of medicine, he got well. He is now drinking milk, as he said possible and plenty of it.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

A NEW BROKER.
Chicago, Feb. 18.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—What permit must I have in order to be a broker? Can I do business at my home until I can get office space? F. E. B.

1. A broker's license, for which you should apply to the city clerk.
2. Yes.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.
MAY EXAMINE WILL.
Chicago, Feb. 18.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—When an estate is left to the heirs by law supposed to hear the will read?

1. I am to receive a very small sum of my deceased mother's share and have been requested to pay part of my grandmother's funeral expenses in spite of the fact that there was an insurance policy left. Is this compulsory?

2. When my grandmother made this will she could neither talk nor walk, nor write, yet the witnesses swore in court that she was in perfect health.

4. There was a notary's signature on the will, but no seal. Isn't the seal necessary?

5. Could money left in the bank be given by one daughter to a son of my grandmother without the consent of all the heirs?

1. The law makes no such provision, but the will should be filed in court, but you will have opportunity to examine it.
2. Depends on facts that are not before us.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY
FEBRUARY 23, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Admiral Porter has wired the navy department: "I have the honor to report the evacuation of Fort Anderson. There were ten heavy guns in the fort and a quantity of ammunition. We lost but three killed and five wounded."

SPRINGFIELD.—Our city has been the subject of the glorious news of the fall of that nest of treason, Charleston, and the capture of Fort Anderson, which, with the general observance of the birthday of Washington, had the effect of making it a gala day.

NEW YORK.—Gov. Morgan, in reply to the solicitations of influential friends to accept the position of secretary of the treasury, peremptorily declined it, thus finally settling all doubts in the matter so far as he is concerned.

ST. LOUIS.—The most ridiculous outrage on public sentiment lately brought to notice is the attempt of a handful of German-French infidels to break up the sessions of the state convention by force.

CHICAGO.—Fire destroyed Waller's wooden block on Canal street, between Van Buren and Harrison streets, and the Empire house, adjoining. These buildings were constructed in 1857.

CHICAGO.—Yesterday was a bright, glorious, almost summer day. We undoubtedly have more cold weather before us, but spring cannot be far away.

CAMP FRY.—The 102d Illinois infantry will be organized tomorrow.

CHICAGO.—Samuel Hays, an actor, for many years a resident of Chicago, died recently in St. Louis.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY
FEBRUARY 23, 1900.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Forty-nine of the fifty-one members of the Democratic national committee decided that the national convention will assemble in Kansas City on July 4. There were but two competing cities for the convention—Kansas City and Milwaukee.

LONDON.—The London Press is exceedingly optimistic that Gen. Cronje and his army are as good as crushed already and that Ladysmith to all practical purposes has been relieved.

CHICAGO.—Accompanied by a valet,

GEORGINA DA WASH.

Oh, Georgina da Wash, he gretta da man. He makka no bluff, plays no granda stan. Hees pop geer him ax, say "Leesten to me. Go choppa weeth ax all things wot you see. Choppa down these house, go choppa da barn. Choppa down da peo-an, I ne geer a darn. But Georgina was theess, makka prom now to me. You no choppa down thata neece cherry tree." Poppa go way an' he come home to sup. He lookka da tree, eet all choppa up! And poppa so mad, he no talk—justa hees. He say, "Cussa dam, wotta Blackhan do thees?"

Now Georgina da Wash no shedda da tear, 'An' say, "Notta know, too bad I no here, Maybe bird chop eet down, maybe bee honeybee." Nae! Georgina da Wash, he jess say, "Eetta me!"

Oh, Georgina da Wash, he fighta da war. An' makka da Breetish to feel gooda sore. Da Breetish say, "Georgina, you playa da game. Keepa da rules for da war an' no be ashame. All summer time fight, een winter time bes' Ever'bodie go home an' takka good rest. Een winter da Heeh you musta no touch. Now, Georgina, be good, lay offa da Dutch." But Georgina he wait till da river all froze—An' thenna he hita da Dutch on da nose. Da Breetish sit an' makka da shout. An' say, "Georgina, who lay all thees Hessian boys out?"

Now, Georgina da Wash mighta talk theessaway, "Maybe drink mucha whiskey an' getta too pay, An' shoota theessaway, you wotta I see." Nae! Georgina da Wash, he jess say, "Eetta me!"

WHOWELL cares now if our army has been whited to nothing, our navy has no men, and we haven't an alarm? What of it? We've got Deputy Sheriff Oscar Smith, the farmer who jumped on five unsupervised bank bandits, mused them all up, and then put 'em in jail. Let foreign enemies tremble! In case of war, we will mobilize Farmer Smith and his trusty shotgun.

That Word in Six Letters.
Mon. Cher Richard: Tonite the sky was clear . . . a clear sky with stars beaming down through the silvers of shadows that the night throws about the skyscrapers . . . and the wind had died down to a gentle breeze . . . and out in the outskirts of the city the snow has gone away . . . and sidewalkers are beginning to be a little . . . and the old fannals are beginning to be a little . . . does it mean . . . can it mean . . . surely not . . . that the time for lasses and suppers is here?

PIERRE ET GUILLAUME OF THE TEMPLE.

IT'S a good thing George Washington crossed the Delaware when he did. If he tried to do it now, General Smedley Butler would arrest him for standing up in the boat.

All Right, We Won't Take Snowshoes.
RH: Fervens kane, man, here's Alice Blue of Moline on her knees BEGGING you to run the Line Night at WOC. Do you suppose that she wants it over there just so she can hear it? Not on your life; she can hear it any time. Can't you see that that is only an excuse to meet Snowshoe Al? I've known her for two years and a half and I haven't been able to work up half as good a drag as he's got—and she hasn't even seen him yet! Mighoh! But she's a darn cute kid, and I don't mean once-in-a-while.

H. F. H.

WE'VE got to tell the truth! We said Saturday we were going out to the Legion meeting at Des Moines and take Vangie because Art Lueder said this being a national holiday, he would bring us any mail. But yesterday, the 23d of February, the birthday of the immortal George, was too much for us. So we will tell the truth. We are taking Vangie to Iowa because the Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, commonly known as the Forty and Eight, is giving a Third Annual Frolic at the Rainbow Gardens tomorrow night; and they have announced that they will auction Vangie to the highest bidder. So we have picked up Vangie and fled to I-o-way, out where the tall corn grows. No, Vangie shall not be sold down the river! She shall remain hidden with friends in Iowa.

Once It Was Called—and in Our Hearts Will Ever Be—
THE DANCE FIRST.

R. H. L.: It's more than six years now—yet we're still at it. Last Saturday night old Joe—the old boy himself (how we cussed him in '18, but we kept on right behind him!)—planned decorations on some of the old gang again. Not for pushing a party, but for a machine gun nest, and for holding out in a shell hole, with nothing to eat but half a can of goldfish—just for carrying on. And who shall say it isn't just as creditable? Take for example one old timer who is rounding out twenty-five years' service. He sweated in Cuba—he foot-eleged in France, and he's back on the job just as chipper as ever. Pretty good, at that, isn't it, to think of 'em still getting their all to the service and to the old outfit? Makes me kinda proud myself to sign—

WINDIGO OF THE 131st.

MaKinkay Kantor's Poem.
R. H. L.: Here's thanks to MaKinkay Kantor for his beautiful ballad—"Floyd Collins' Cave." There is real understanding and sympathy for the "Spirit of the Explorer" expressed in those lines. I wish all the hard-headed realists who are "spouting" about Collins taking foolish chances would read those verses—but after all—could they appreciate them?

HURRAH! HURRAH! HOO-ROO! We're free! We're free! We're free! The ban has been taken off raw oysters and we can eat them once more without being put in jail. Quick, bring the raw oyster hither, boy! Stand by with the salt and pepper, the dash of tabasco, and the half lemon! Let's go. Now, in the best style of good old Doc Undersea, grab the oyster by the tail—hold it high in the air—throw back the head—now then—ready—GEDUNK!

Well, All Right Then, We Won't.
R. H. L.: Honestly, you're getting positively effeminate—subtly hinting in this column Friday that the contrite shower you wish a job of requests to print "Georgina da Wash." Well, I for one refuse to be led. I don't care to see it, and what is more, if you do print it I won't read it.

WARREN OF THE COUNTER.

Who Wants to Know?
RH: Oonoomow, Wis., was not named after an Irishman, but was named by an Indian who, after walking across the state in a day and a half, reached that particular spot and said in Indian language, "I can no more walk." (O con no mo soc.) If you don't believe it ask any of the natives.

F. R. L.

OLD ARTA BREEZADABANE say Georgina da Wash say neek on de forren entan. But deesn't Georgina da Wash buya de fine old Jamaika rum? Sure? And haainta Jamaika rum de forren entan? Sure! You drepka sun, you see. Arta Breezadabane makka me tired.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

MR. ERICSON ON FIRE ENGINES.
Chicago, Feb. 18.—Again I notice one of those anonymous experts coming forth to show his unfamiliarity with the water supply problems in Chicago.

In THE TRIBUNE of this date G. J. N. wants to bet that one of two fire engines pumping water for one hour would make more water than all the home leaks would in ten years.

One fire engine in constant operation for five hours would use 75,000 gallons of water.

Ten fire engines would use 750,000 gallons in the same time.

The average pumpage at pumping stations during such five hours would be about 55,000,000 gallons.

The water used for fire purposes has been determined time and again as averaging one-tenth gallon per capita per day out of the 180 gallons per capita pumped. This would in a year amount to 109,500,000 gallons of water, which is sufficient for operating ten fire engines five hours every other day during the entire year. Sancta simplicitas!

Why print such rot? Some one might believe it.

JOHN ERICSON, City Engineer.

CONSCRIPTING CAPITAL.
Rock Island, Ill., Feb. 15.—I noticed your article, "What Causes War?"

Conscripting capital would not cause wars to cease, but it would put us all on the same basis.

Why should one man leave wife and family and business to work for $20 per month and perhaps give his life, and another because he has a flat foot stay at home with his family and perhaps make a million dollars?

I do not see why the Legion does not press that matter in congress so that we will all be on the same basis.

L. E. West.

QUICK MR. BARNES.
Chicago, Feb. 18.—Clifford W. Barnes is a pretty clever manipulator of embarrassing situations. Last night at the Sunday Evening club meeting, after the "World Court Resolutions" had been read and the reader had moved their glasses, Mr. Barnes said: "All who favor the adoption of the resolutions say AYE." A very feeble response was given—very many voted AYE. But Mr. Barnes' quick mind saw the weakness of Mr. Fostel's arguments and quickly demolished the meeting without putting the question to a negative vote. No chance was taken with that audience which had easily discerned the weakness of Mr. Fostel's arguments and his misstatements of fact. A thunderous NO would have followed had Mr. Barnes given the people a chance to record their judgment as against that proposition.

PUPILS TO SIT TODAY AT FEET OF WASHINGTON

While those whose patriotism exceeded their fear of wet feet celebrated Washington's birthday yesterday on its proper anniversary, others will celebrate it today.

Yesterday at Shiloh, Senator-elect Charles E. Deneen unveiled a memorial tablet to Rison Moore, his great-grandfather, which the Daughters of the American Revolution have erected. Rison Moore, a veteran of the revolutionary war, moved to Shiloh Valley, Ill., in 1812, and was an outstanding figure because of his early work against slavery.

Children Meet Today.

This morning at 10 o'clock the birth of George Washington will be commemorated in exercises for and by school children of Chicago, at the Auditorium. The program will be under the auspices of the Union League club.

The schools that will be represented on the program are Lindblom high school, the R. O. T. C. of Bowen high school, the Lake View, Englewood, Chase, Senn and Harrison high schools. Charles E. Moberly, president of the board of education, and Mayor Dewar will both speak. The program will open with a flag raising, and will include songs, addresses and musical numbers.

Morrow Speaks at Statue.

Edwin P. Morrow, former governor of Kentucky and present member of the United States railway board, was chief speaker at the exercises the American Legion posts held at the foot of Washington's statue at the entrance to Washington park at Grand boulevard and 51st street.

Banks, schools, post offices and many business houses will be closed today in honor of the anniversary of Washington's birth. Five hundred are expected to attend the banquet at the Morrison hotel tonight of the Friends of Irish Freedom. State's Attorney Crowe will act as toastmaster. Judge John P. McGoorty and former Judge O'Neill Ryan of St. Louis will speak. James J. O'Toole heads the reception committee.

Paris Churches Honor Memory of Washington

PARIS, Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Special church services and social functions with musical programs, to which all the American organizations in Paris contributed, made the celebration of the anniversary of Washington's birthday a fitting tribute to the Father of His Country. The American pro-cathedral and the American church in the Rue de Berri opened the day's ceremonies with elaborate services.

Former Premier Branting of Sweden Close to Death

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 22.—[Hjalmar Branting, former premier of Sweden, is not expected to live until morning. A bulletin tonight says an inflammation of the bilious duct occurred, demanding an operation, which the physicians do not dare perform because of the weakness of the patient. All the members of his family are assembled round the sickbed.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

Note the Low Flare and Jabot of this Tailored Piquet Frock

THAT it is copied from the latest of French designs is evidenced not only in its slightly molded silhouette ending in deftly shaped godets to give the desired front flare, but, too, in the plaited jabot and cuff-frill of white crepe de chine.

The combination of navy and white is new and Parisian; the use of exquisitely fine piquet an elegance of the early spring; the smartly applied silk braid a perfect finish. This is one of the chic cloth Dresses destined to appear a bit later with perhaps the added warmth of a spiral fur choker. $95.

Color Accents Ensemble
Suits, Fashion Approves It

THE most elaborate of spring suits are a really practical purchase this season, for one achieves a dress and a coat at the same time that one achieves a harmonious ensemble. Our first collection of suits does justice to the beautiful materials with smart lines and unusual touches of trimming.

The suit sketched suggests all sorts of spring festivities in its gay colorings. The long coat of Kashmir cloth may be had in white with sapphire or lipstick crepe dress, or in blue with gray dress beneath. The fur band is fine Belgian hare, in beige, white or gray; the lining combines the colors of coat and dress. $110.

Clipped Yarn Trims
Smartly an Imported
Homespun Coat

CORRECT in its swagger English lines, this beautifully soft Cumberland Homespun in the new deep amber shade has decidedly novel collar and cuffs of clipped yarn. It is one of many new Coats at $125. As interesting is a Coat, not pictured, of natural kasha with a band and detachable choker collar of kit fox, at $145. The choice of such Coats as these, new and individual in design, is admirable.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North, State

WOMEN'S Winter Coats that may be bought for $25 up, with fur, or for $18.50 up without fur, are an excellent investment.

Sports Dresses In the Dominant Spring Fabric

AS THE sportswoman's way turns countryward she looks for the newest, smartest and most comfortable dresses. Our collection of new dresses fulfills all the demands of the mode and of the sport. The model sketched, of the popular Kashmir cloth, uses crepe de chine for its unusual collar and cuffs, for pleated fullness under the buttons on the skirt, and for facing and pockets on the blouse. In many new shades: cerulean blue, geranium, Lanvin, mastic, natural and henna. $45.

This "Femina" Ensemble
Requires but One Fitting

Custom Apparel, Ninth Floor

HOW many times you have wanted a Frock made "just for you" but have been so rushed that fittings seemed almost impossible. "Femina" has solved this problem, for this semi-made Frock requires only one fitting in our section to finish it according to the individual's taste in regard to length of skirt and style of sleeve and neck. The Frock is in every way up to our Custom Apparel standard.

The "Femina" Ensemble sketched uses yellow and black printed crepe for frock and lining with a black kasha coat; the frock has a tie of black satin across the flared front.

The February Shoe Sale
Opens Its Final Week

ARE you taking full advantage of the remarkable savings provided by this semiannual event? Remember that though the Sale is drawing to a close, the choice is practically unimpaired, since the entire stocks, constantly replenished, are included. The very low prices suggest the laying in of a considerable supply, especially as the needs of the whole family—Men, Women and Children—may be adequately cared for in our regular or in our numerous special lines.

First Showing
Of Spring Hats
From Paris

ALWAYS one of the most fascinating phases of a new season is the arrival of the new French models personally chosen by our representatives in Paris. And never more so than now when crowns and brims take on new angles and dents, when colors are fresh—how effective the reds and greens and violet tones!—and trimmings distinctive. One notices much use of ribbon, metal-tipped coque feathers, flowers; medium, high, even martial crowns; brims whimsically turned. Many of our adaptations, too, in the French and Debutante Salons, Fifth Floor.

Elmer Finds Sunday Music to His Taste

Thrilled by the Business Men's Orchestra.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

We will imagine the day opening with an unusually impressive concert performance of the "Traviata" at the Chicago theater, with a talented quintet of soloists, a live wire chorus made up of members of the Apollo Music club, and accompanied by the Chicago theater orchestra. Here was a spirited performance that to have heard was to remember; to have missed a misfortune to be regretted. This opera is a severe test for the soloists, yet the work of Marie Heron and Arvesta Parish, soprano, and Carl Bitter, tenor, will be something for us to remember, and for these artists in particular and the entire company in general to look back on as stepping stones in their careers toward which they are surely destined.

I was able to hear only the latter half of the concert by the twenty-five members of the James Millikin University Glee club at W-G-N, 230 to 235, but this was sufficient to reveal a club having had considerable experience as a singing organization, and having vigor and strength and a characteristic tonal coloring that made them a joy to hear.

The 330 W-G-N concert by artist students of the Chicago Musical college was an inspiration. It went with a dash, and without the slightest indication of a weak spot. I should like to name all the artists if I could.

All of which, including a fine 4 to 5 P.M. classical concert, led up to the real climax of the day—the Chicago Business Men's orchestra on the WEBB 5 to 6 o'clock twilight musical. This orchestra, consisting of ninety business and professional men, was heard at the same station several months ago, and it would be real musical philanthropy if this wonderful organization would play for us more frequently. Here is real music at its best, yes, and every listener is on his way to an appreciation and demand for programs of this merit, either on the air or in the concert hall.

There was the complex and colorful Prelude to Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," the sublime lovely concerto for two violins (D minor) by Bach (this is ringing in my ears right now), the first movement of Cesar Franck's massive symphony in D minor; two of German's graceful Nell Gwynne dances, and Tchaikovsky's tragic Marche Slave.

What could be finer or nobler or more inspiring than a program like this and played as this accomplished aggregation of business men—musical loving men—played it? They no doubt enjoyed the playing, but, after all, they played for us, for you and for me, which makes it all the more beautiful. Let's close, right here.

Three Generations Kept Healthy and Happy

"Beecham's Pills were always considered indispensable by my parents during sixty years of married life and I am never without them in my home, as they are used when required by myself (aged sixty-one), and wife and children. This covers a period of over eighty years.

My wife and sons also believe there is no remedy for constipation and biliousness equal to Beecham's Pills.

So many so-called "cures" for biliousness and kindred troubles leave after effects that are certainly injurious, but Beecham's Pills give prompt relief and leave one in a healthy and happy condition."

Thousands of letters, post cards, and telegrams, sent in spontaneously, sound the praises of the Silvertown Cord program, and Goodrich Rubber Products.

The following are a few of the messages which make up Silvertown Radi-O-plause:

Very delightful concert. The excellence of the music was in keeping with the auto tires of the same name, that I have used for some years. C. T. D., Elgin, Illinois.

We listened to your program from Elgin, Illinois, and enjoyed it immensely. My wife has a pair of Zipper Boots and likes them very much. R. J. H., Tinley Park, Illinois.

Have been listening to your Silvertown Orchestra from WTAS. Best music on the air tonight. Your Zipper Boots are as good as the orchestra. Mrs. E. E. C., Chicago, Illinois.

I enjoyed the program very much, especially because you were sponsoring it. My father always uses Silvertown Cords and he says they are the best. He always has good luck with them. Miss S. D., Elgin, Illinois.

Have been listening to your Orchestra which is as good as your Silvertown Cord Tires. The last we had lasted us over 18,000 miles. E. S., Forest Park, Illinois.

Please send me a Cross Word Puzzle Book. Am strong for Goodrich Tires. J. R., Aurora, Illinois.

Heard your Orchestra, which was great—just like the Silvertown Cord Tires. H. P. P., Virden, Illinois.

I wear Zippers and keep dry. M. J. C., Evanston, Illinois.

PARIS OPPOSES
BERLIN SITTING
IN WITH ALLIESHerriot Wants Security
Problem Fixed First.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Feb. 22.—The French opposition to any consultation with the Germans on the question of their disarmament became practically official today by statements from authorized sources that Germany cannot pretend to participate in discussions of its own future to fulfill the peace treaty.

It is clear that Premier Herriot's position is that the allies must first make an accord between themselves on the problems of security before they can either send Germany a note or convene a general inter-allied conference. While Premier Herriot is willing to attend such a conference, he does not wish to go into a meeting without a solid understanding with England first. Quinn O'Shea believes England will not attempt to force the allies into consulting Germany, however strongly Germany may demand it.

May Settle Matters in Advance.
The date of the new conference, if decided on, will be settled during the Chamberlain's visit with Premier Herriot on March 6, and the French hope the general lines of an inter-allied accord will be settled then in advance.

The control commission's report still is held secret, while the Foch committee studies it, but it is learned that the details of the report concern the maintenance of illegal munition factories, chemical laboratories, and staff officers. Krupp's, the largest gun shop at Essen, has not been touched since the war of 1871 and the machines are ready to turn out cannon. Seventeen state arsenals condemned under the treaty still are maintained by the German government.

About 1,000 munition factories are ready to resume work when ordered, as their machines are still in excellent order. Chemical research, disguised as commercial enterprise, is progressing at a great rate. Reimsdorf, for instance, laboratories are turning out ordinary commercial celluloid by a process practically the same as nitro-glycerin.

Schutzpolizei Well Armed.
The Schutzpolizei, or security police also are armed to the teeth and are able to take to the field with the regular army at any time. They escape from the treaty provisions because they are called police, but they have one machine gun for every twenty men and are a formidable armed body.

With secret societies, university training corps, and patriotic organizations of all kinds, Germany can call on an army of near 1,000,000 men. The officers of this army already are on the payroll, about 35,000 of them, far in excess of the necessity for Germany's restricted army of 100,000.

The only point on which the French officials seem to be in agreement with the Germans today is on the publication of this report. The French feel that it would strengthen their hand greatly before negotiating, while the Germans, undoubtedly through ignorance of the terms of the report, believe it would aid their cause.

GERMANS HIGH IN PRAISE AS U. S.
ENVOY LEAVES

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Die Zeit, organ of Foreign Minister Stresemann, pays an unusual tribute to Ambassador B. Houghton, the American ambassador, on his departure from Berlin to take up his new post at London, praising him both as "one of the outstanding statesmen of our time," and "a man whose charming manner and kindly spirit all who came in close contact with him prized highly."

The words of farewell exchanged at the recent dinner of President Ebert and Minister Stresemann, the paper observes, "were far more important than the usual official addresses and brought proof of the strong personal bond of friendship between the ambassador from the United States and the leaders of the German government."

Die Zeit recalls Mr. Houghton's decisive influence at the London conference over the Dawes plan.

The ambassador's relations to Germany's problems the paper characterizes as follows: "The ambassador viewed conditions in Germany with friendly objectivity, and one can assume that the improvement in the relations between the United States and Germany was largely due to his influence. He had a special grasp of the industrial and social situation in Germany."

MEXICO TO JOIN U.S. PROTECTING WILD BIRD LIFE

Mexico City, Feb. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Mexico will offer every assistance within her power to assure success of the mission of a special representative whom the American government is sending to Mexico City to discuss with the Mexican authorities the provisions of the proposed international agreement for the protection of migratory bird life, the American ambassador, James H. Sheffield, announced today. Negotiations are being carried on for such an agreement, supplementing the existing treaty between the United States and Canada.

Mr. Sheffield explained that the problem which confronted the United States when the first movement was launched for preservation of wild life, is facing Mexico now, as thousands of natives still depend upon hunting wild birds for part of their food supply.

Negotiations are proceeding with the object of reaching a working agreement in which the two countries will cooperate in an effort to abolish drug smuggling across the border.

Discussing the reported intention of the Mexican government to attempt to unite consideration of the division of the waters of the Rio Grande and Colorado rivers, Mr. Sheffield said he expected soon to take up formally the question of Mexico's contentions relative to the Boulder canyon dam of the Colorado river. Meanwhile, however, he is attempting to counteract any pressure which might be exercised to hurry the question to a head.

Wives Who Demand, Children Who Want, Are Hard on Father

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A man I know has a salary of $7,000 a year. He has a wife, three children, a house not all paid for in a good section of suburbia. The children are at the want age. Mother, in the last couple of years, has developed an inordinate case of herself. They want a car. They don't want a cheap one, either. Mother wants one of those coupe thousands dollar piano players that sound as though Paderewski himself had been invited in.

Daughter, the elder of the two girls, scorns cotton tops. She wants her stockings silk all the way up. Mother and she want to throw out the old furniture and get in some period stuff—anyway, something new. Son, 17 and two years older than the girl, is executive in his demands. He has to take his girl around. He has to look the sheik part. He has to remember such little things as Estelle's birthday, her Christmas, her appetite for the movies, and her desire to be going somewhere.

It is all rather hard on father, an honest soul, a home loving one, a man who would be only too happy to gratify their every request—but seven thousand a year, while the mother seems like a thousand to some folk, will cover only so much outlay and no more, when the wife and the children are attempting to live up to a standard set by a rich neighbor and when payments on the home, taxes, insurance, and a hundred incidentals must be taken care of besides.

Mother, indulgently disposed toward her offspring, and, of late, rather so disposed toward herself, looks father over, and wonders what's the matter with him that he can't get into something that would make them rich, instead of this merely grubbing along on seven thousand a year. Why can't he be more like the man next door, whose wife is taking herself off to Palm Beach for a couple of months. Or like the other whose wife is parading a new thousand dollar fur coat. She hectors her husband, first, with stings; now, with no attempt at concealing discontent with him and his limited earning capacity, and she does it in the children's presence. The two older start where mother leaves off, with their wants and their contributions on how people are expected to live nowadays.

Now a certain amount of nagging and hectoring is said to goad some men to greater income making power. But this man is not one of them. He has not the thing in him that makes millionaires of men. Nevertheless, he has, or had, the domestic virtues that make happiness for the right kind of woman. Lately he has been getting "broody." The flippant young fellow has been heard to call him queer. The son refers to him as "a back number, an old feller." Mother, instead of laying the rail of them across her knee, at this juncture, plays the martyr stuff at being tied to a man with no more get up or ambition in him. Be it said, in justice to mother's deserts, she gets no sympathy from the younger ones.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Have Been a Great Factor in the Increased Consumption of Food.

More than a million old-time dyspeptics now daily enjoy the best of health, and all because they learned the helplessness of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. It is a most enjoyable sensation to eat pork and beans, fried eggs and bacon, sausage and huckabucks or mince pie and coffee with rich cream and not a sign of distress. A host of men and women declare they now get a real kick out of life simply because they eat without fear or favor. These tablets give the stomach the alkaline effect such as it naturally has when digestion is perfect, hence there is no heartburn, no gas, no sour eructs or other such distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia. Get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store, and you won't be without another box of the food is right. The quantity of it will draw your attention.

HAROLD TEEN—A SHORT DEMONSTRATION

who think to them, if anybody, belong the martyr roles.

The other day the husband of the rich neighbor, whose home, cars, diamonds, and overindulgent children were the standards mother had adopted in passing judgment on father, was arrested and indicted for forgery and the mulcting of thousands of dollars entrusted to his care.

When you read the confessions of these men of the get-rich-quick methods, and you may read one almost every day, do you ever think of their helpful influence in the community in which they have lived? Or on the poor clerk in the same office? Or on the number of women who looked up to their wives with admiration and envy? Or of the hardworking, honest mates who have suffered by comparison?

Do you ever stop to think of the kind of men who are in our prisons today? There you will not find bricklayers, carpenters, salesmen, or the honest small dealers who know their station in life, and live according to their incomes. We find our prisons filled with men who tried to appear financially more than they were, who bit off more than they could chew—the fourth year.

Chicago Today Bids Reluctant Farewell to Mrs. Roosevelt

BY NANCY R.

Chicago society bids good-bye today to one of the most noted guests of the winter, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the late colonel, President, and in-laws.

Mrs. Roosevelt for the last week has been the guest of George F. Porter of 122 North State street. Their friendship is one of long standing, dating from the days of 1912 and the famous progressive campaign, in which both of them were so busied and interested.

The colonel's lady journeyed from New York to Chicago, a little over a week ago, to see her daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and to make sure that Princess Alice was as happy and comfortable as possible. But, as things turned out, Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here in time to welcome a brand new granddaughter into the world, some ten days ahead of schedule.

There has been much entertaining here for the senior Mrs. Roosevelt during her stay in Chicago. Yesterday afternoon her host, Mr. Porter, invited a few old friends—about twenty in all, to believe—in for tea. Last evening Mr. Porter and his visitor were guests of the John Allen Carpenters at a gay supper party. On Saturday the Kellogg Parkmans gave a luncheon for Mrs. Roosevelt, and last week the Ernest de Witt Burtons of the University of Chicago entertained for her at dinner.

Day's News in Society

Mrs. Helena Normanton (in private life, Mrs. Gavin Clark of London) arrives in Chicago today for a few days of speeches and the following day the only married woman in England to be admitted to the bar. She will be the house guest of Miss Mary Rozet Smith of 12 West Walton place. Mrs. John F. Parvelli, Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. Walter H. Jarratt, Mrs. Frederick T. West, Mrs. Gordon Strong, and Mrs. William H. Pruyn Jr. head the committee making arrangements for the dinner to be given tomorrow evening for her by the Woman's Club at the Drake. Several hundred members of the bar association have been invited to be present and John C. Cameron, president of the association, will make the introductory address. The English Speaking Union will give a luncheon at noon tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle for Mrs. Normanton. Among those who have signified their intention of attending tomorrow evening's affair are Mrs. William R. Linn, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Miss Jane Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West.

Mrs. William Allen Pusey will assist Leonard W. Wahlstrom in giving a lecture on "Practical Undertakings for the Amateur in the Home" at 2 o'clock this afternoon, under the auspices of the School of Domestic Arts and Science, at the students' residence at 129 Bolden avenue.

A long list of reservations for the Stravinsky concert to be given tomorrow evening by the Arts club includes such prominent names as John Alden Carpenter, Mrs. Ernst Freund, chairman of the music committee; Mrs. Joseph B. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Everett, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Arthur Ellman, Mrs. Frederick McCormick, Miss Elizabeth Tilling, Frederick A. Stock, Arthur Ham, George F. Porter, John H. Winterbottom, and Robert Allerton. The Arts club announces a luncheon on Thursday noon for Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield Ziesler. Carleton Hackett will introduce Mrs. Ziesler and James Weber Linn will give a short talk.

The Junior Friends of Art will hold their meeting at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Chicago Historical society. The program will include a lecture on "The Art of the Renaissance" by Mrs. F. M. D. D. and a discussion of the art of the Renaissance by Mrs. F. M. D. D. and a discussion of the art of the Renaissance by Mrs. F. M. D. D.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, who has been the guest of George F. Porter of the State Parkway for the last week, will depart today for her residence at Ogden street.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY
Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(Special.)—The secretary of state and Mrs. Hughes gave a dinner last evening for the ambassador of Spain and Senora de Elano, the ambassador of France and Mme. Dacres, the ambassador of Mexico and Senora de Telles, the undersecretary of state and Mrs. Joseph G. Crew, the assistant secretary of state and Mrs. John Van A. MacMurray, Judge and Mrs. Samuel Graham, Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mott, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Delano Robinson.

The chief justice and Mrs. Taft were guests at luncheon today of Mrs. Henry F. Dimock. Former Attorney General and Mrs. George W. Wickham of New York also were among the guests.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Child Needs Coat.

"There is a little girl in my Sunday school class who is much in need of a warm coat. Do you suppose any of your readers have a coat for a 10 year old girl which is no longer needed and which she may use for the remainder of the winter?"

"We thought it was to be spring not long ago, but winter has come back again, garbed in snow and ice, and we feel sure anyone who can make the gift of a coat to this little girl, to protect her from the damp and cold of February and March winds, will be doing a service, indeed."

Urgent Call for Aid.

"One of the women registered at our welfare station is badly in need of a baby carriage. She has three babies, the oldest of which is 16 months. The twins only weigh 3 and 4 pounds each, and it is of the utmost importance that these babies be seen by a doctor every week to save their lives. Can some one donate a buggy?"

"M. J. M."

This is the story of one little woman who had courage and intelligence.

A survey of our records reveals many stories of other women, equally successful and full of human interest. Address School Division. E. BURNHAM, Inc. 138 N. State Street Chicago

Bright Sayings of the Children

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Antoinette Donnelly, Chicago.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Some of Antoinette Donnelly's recipes for youth and beauty, together with suggestions for personal hygiene, have been assembled in a 64 page booklet, "Advice to Women." It will be mailed upon receipt of 10 cents. Address The Tribune Public Service Bureau, 11 South Dearborn street, Chicago.

MARGILL: WHILE THE USE OF

hot milk is beneficial to the complexion, if you have enlarged pores you must seek to get rid of them. It will take a little patience to correct this condition. Pores are large because they have become clogged with secretions, so first of all scrub the face with hot water and soap. The use of a face brush is recommended. Rinse with warm water and then with cold. If you have ice, it is preferable, as it is most effective in closing the pores and toning up the skin. Witch hazel, when warmed, is a most effective astringent.

MILDRED: IF YOU EXPERIENCE

an itching of the skin after a cold or lukewarm bath, your skin does not contain sufficient oil. The itching is due to the irritation of the skin caused by the change of temperature or by the water. The application of liquid vaseline or cold cream is helpful. It would be well for you to confine yourself to hot baths.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Florence Holmes of 1855 Lunt avenue to Walter Slattery will take place this morning at St. Ignace's church and will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Sovereign. Miss Loretta Gamble will be the bride's only attendant, and Eugene Slattery will be best man. After their wedding trip Mr. Slattery and his bride will reside in Detroit.

Fashion Puts a Feather in Her Cape

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—A feather in one's cap is as nothing to a thousand of feathers in one's cape—not when it comes to a sartorial trophy. In witness of this fact glance at this model, which, created originally by a Viennese couturier, has been adapted for 5th avenue.

The idea of the all-weather wrap is not a new one. "Way back last year, I remember that one of Callot's evening gowns was accompanied by a cape of ostrich that trembled with each movement of the model who wore it. Indeed, though it may sound a bit like taking up one's feather bed and walking, the real execution of the idea halts any mirth. It is really a stunning—albeit theatrical—effect."

In this case the foundation of the wrap, one designed for spring and especially for resort wear, is of deep rose red fulgurant, made on tailored outlines. The sleeves are narrow and the notched revers those which one might expect on a sports coat. To this, therefore, the fluffy hip length cape, so altogether at variance with tailored ideals, contributes a startling contrast. This is the more so since the feathers are shaded from the faint pink of dawn to a red even deeper than the coat itself.

Of course, one would not recommend this coat to the average woman for, as I have said, it is undeniably theatrical. However, the woman of unusual type may essay it, and for her who is not so unusual the fulgurant coat may certainly serve as a guide for evening or afternoon wrap at the resort.

Price of Enthusiasm.

At lunch hour we decided to play basketball in the office with an improvised brown paper ball. The game was waxing rough and interesting when I walked one of the fellows with a brown package in his hands. Excitedly I grabbed it and made a basket, but instead of being elated my face fell when I heard a decided crash. The brown package wasn't a ball at all, but a brand new radio tube the fellow had just purchased. The next week I was embarrassed financially as well as mentally.

STOCKS' SUPPORT LIES IN PUBLIC'S FAITH IN FUTURE

20 MOST ACTIVE STOCKS

Table with 4 columns: Stock Name, Price, Change, and Volume. Lists 20 most active stocks including Ford, General Motors, and others.

The New York Times

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—The substantial recovery on the stock exchange after the violent downward reaction in the middle of last week, no doubt had various explanations—the easy money market, for instance, and the approaching adjournment of congress—but the main cause must have been confidence in the financial future by the real holders of securities and their consequent unwillingness to sell. This is an underlying consideration, when it actually exists can be only temporarily affected either by reckless bidding up or prices for professional account or by forced liquidation on the part of smaller speculators who had followed that rise, with the consequent reaction.

No Reason for Pessimism

There has been no reason for reversal of that attitude, unless in the case of those impulsive souls who expected a "trade boom" to arrive overnight on the heels of the election news. The conclusion which will suggest to the thoughtful observer is that while improvement in the market has developed only deliberately the movement has been altogether in the right direction.

Big Rise Not Expected

A rise to a price any lower than the "gold bar" of $4.85 was not to be expected because, as soon as the London "gold" market was reached, the market was able to make up its mind in which direction, if in either, prices should now move.

What Shippers Have Meant

To a very considerable extent the shipments of gold have meant that an equivalent amount of potential purchases of gold had been rendered unnecessary. Nevertheless the exchange market continued in its belief that actual gold resumption was expected during the month of March.

Excess of Imports Increases

In 1924, Great Britain's excess of imports increased from 210,000,000 pounds sterling to 240,000,000 pounds sterling. The excess of imports of Germany was 2,600,000,000 marks in 1924, whereas France achieved an excess of 1,322,000,000 francs last year as against an import surplus of 2,254,000,000 in 1923.

The Visible Explanation

The visible explanation of the international monetary situation is the international movement of capital; on which, indeed, even the French government based its apprehensions regarding the franc.

Large table containing stock market data for various companies, including prices, changes, and volumes. Columns include Div. No., Share, High, Low, Close, and Net Change.

CAILLAUX RETURN GIVES PAUSE TO LONDON MARKET

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Feb. 23.—The return of Mr. Caillaux to the French cabinet is exerting a strong influence on the London financial opinion at the close of this week's trading. Cross-channel politics, especially the widely heralded return of the French financial genius, Joseph Caillaux, while thought to be a better prospect than the one who left the Lombard street market, is not more or less marking time to see what business has not yet recovered and what continues to be an extremely present period of timidity.

U. S. DEPT.
NORMAL C
MILLION PFaculty Hea
Coolidge and

BY JAMES O'DONNELL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—The biggest men in the world, from the President down to the chief of staff and his major generals, taking hours off to prepare and teach lessons to a hundred women representing a million, in the unique educational experiment current in Washington.

No lesson runs much under half an hour; all are specific; all demand intent listening.

Tonight the pupils are a tattered lot; the teachers, and school days to go.

The subject is "National Peace Insurance." The have been sent from all over the country by fifty women's organizations who either bred men for war or descendants of women who say they are willing to do it.

There is a better way to hear on this proposition:
